15 Known Dead In Louisiana Gas Blast

9 Children Victims Of Explosion

Three Unaccounted For And Possibly Killed In Accident

NATCHITOCHES, La. (AP) — A high-pressure natural gas pipeline exploded in a residential area north of here early today and officials said at least 15 and possibly more persons were killed.

Norman Fletcher, Natchitoches Parish Civil Defense director, said nine of the 15 known dead were children. Two or three persons unaccounted for also are children, he said.

At least nine persons were taken to a hospital for treatment of injuries. Their conditions were not serious.

The blast occurred on Tennessee Gas Transmission Co. 32-inch line shortly after 6 a.m.

The blast and billowing flames destroyed five frame homes across State Highway 1 from the country club. Eight automobiles were melted by the intense heat.

Flames leaped upward of 400 to 500 feet in the cloudless sky and seared an area about 200 yards square in the vicinity of the five houses. A crater 200 yards wide was created.

The flames kept back rescue workers until Tennessee Gas crews managed to shut off the flow of gas.

Bodies of the victims were taken to the National Guard Armory, where Dr. Charles Cook, the parish coroner, began the task of identification.

Rescue crews searched the rubble as the flames died out in a hunt for more bodies.

Natchitoches is in northwest Louisiana about 100 miles south-east of Shreveport.

Estes Cleared But Too Late; Faces Prison

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — Billie Sol Estes won what was possibly his last inning in court, but it was too late to keep the one-time captain of farm finance out of prison.

A federal court jury acquitted him Wednesday of fudging in sworn accounts of how much he owed to obtain Commodity Credit Corp. contracts paying more than $5 million a year for storage of surplus grain.

The West Texas promoter, credited with considerable influence in Washington and among some top business executives until he went broke in 1962, nevertheless is bound behind bars.

Estes, 40, was convicted in two earlier trials on state charges of swindling and federal charges of mail fraud and conspiracy, both based on dealings on around $24-million worth of mostly worthless mortgages on farm fertilizer tanks.

Only Monday, as his latest trial started here, the Supreme Court rejected Estes' final plea for review of his 15-year sentence in the mail-fraud case. He still is appealing an eight-year prison term on a state conviction of swindling.

His wife Patsy, a worried-looking blonde, and their son and four daughters listened to closing arguments from a front-row bench a few feet behind Estes.

Wage Requests Aired By Police Committee

The wage and grievance committee of the Fraternal Order of Police Lodge met Wednesday night at City Hall to discuss requests on wages increases and other benefits which it expects to present to Council before the 1965 appropriation ordinance is drafted.

In Stormy Session

Another Rhodes Appointment Hit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Democrats in the Ohio Senate have blocked another appointment by Gov. James A. Rhodes over angry Republican protests that marked the stormiest session of the 106th General Assembly.

They also shoved through a resolution Wednesday asking the governor to end interviews by private industry of persons named by the governor as public members of state agencies.

The resolution was offered by Democratic leader Frank W. King, who asserted that published accounts of such interviews indicate "a situation bordering on scandal."

Democrats came out of the heated session victorious although Republicans protested at every turn in the parliamentary maneuvering.

Democrats are enjoying a temporary 16-15 margin in the 32-member senate due to the illness of Cincinnati Republican Fred L. Hoffman, who is recovering from surgery and may be absent up to three more weeks.

Rejected by a strict party-line vote was the appointment of Joseph Cippolone, Parma Republican named by Rhodes to the three-member Industrial Commission. Four other Rhodes

Senate Passes Sargus Seat Belt Legislation

A bill co-sponsored by Sen. Edmund Sargus, D-Belmont, requiring seat belts in Ohio-registered cars, was passed by the Ohio Senate today, 21-2.

The bill, submitted with Sen. Charles Jones, R-Butler, requires that all cars registered in Ohio after Jan. 1, 1966, contain two front seat belts conforming to minimum standards of the Society of Automotive Engineers. Fines between $15 and $50 are provided for violations. Rep. Clarence Wetzel introduced in the House a bill to repeal a section of the law that prevents elective or appointive officials or their employees from bidding on contracts for more than $50 for projects over which the officials have jurisdiction.

appointments were turned down by Democrats last week.

Brown, who presides over the upper chamber, triggered the loudest fireworks when he ruled King out of order on an appeal from a chair ruling.

The appeal involved Brown's declaration that the appoint-

Would Authorize Local Clinics

West Virginia's Senate Passes Birth Control Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — A bill which would authorize local health departments to run birth control clinics — but wouldn't call them by the name — has received Senate approval and is on its way to an uncertain fate in the House.

After a Senate committee hearing last week, the bill's language was doctored and it now refers to the proposed birth control centers as "family planning" and "child spacing" clinics. Among those objecting to the bill at the hearing was a spokesman for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Wheeling.

The Senate passed the altered bill 24-10 Wednesday after very brief floor debate.

The measure would create a new bureau in the State Health Department to aid the local clinics.

In other legislative developments Wednesday: A 28-5 Senate vote completed action on a bill providing for West Virginia participation in programs of the federal government's anti-poverty war. The act now goes to Gov. Hulett Smith.

A House — passed bill to let the state labor commissioner mediate disputes which are outside federal jurisdiction received 26-8 Senate approval. It now goes back to the House for action on Senate amendments.

The House passed 94-5 and sent to the Senate a bill to create a new Division of Correction under the public institutions commissioner.

The division would take over the state's six penal and correctional institutions, now administered directly by the institutions commissioner, and parole supervision duties now performed by the Board of Probation and Parole. The board would continue to have responsibility for granting or revoking parole.

Plan Slated To Resume Steel Parley

No Extension Of Strike Deadline, USW Chief Says

PITTSBURGH (AP) — The United Steelworkers Union called together its basic steel negotiators today for the first time in two months to plan the expected resumption of contract talks Monday.

Following the meeting at USW headquarters, the union negotiators were to meet with their industry counterparts to lay the groundwork for resuming talks and to hear industry's arguments for an extension of the May 1 strike deadline.

Steelworkers President David J. McDonald made it clear Wednesday night, however, that the union had no intention of granting an extension now.

"Any allegations to this effect are absolutely untrue," McDonald said. "The only thing we have agreed to do is meet with the companies' coordinating committee."

The industry requested the joint meeting earlier this week, saying that mounting uncertainty had already damaged the steel industry and the union by forcing customers, edgy over a possible strike, to turn to foreign markets to build inventories.

The industry also cited the harmful effects of stockpiling on the American companies whose mills are overtaxed in trying to meet orders.

Formal negotiations for a basic steel contract started last January but were recessed during the turbulent campaign between McDonald and I. W. Abel, USW secretary-treasurer, for presidency of the union.

The election was held Feb. 9 and Abel led in the unofficial count.

The Chicago Tribune reported Wednesday night that Abel had won by 6,228 votes.

However, sources in Pittsburgh said the union's international tellers were not expected to complete their count of the votes until today at the earliest.

Before they make their official announcement — not due until May 1 — they must investigate protests that reportedly number more than 150. A spokesman for McDonald said this week that the three tellers would hold separate hearings on each protest in the geographical location it was filed.

Snow Or Flurries Due In Return Of Winter

There's some snow or flurries in your future — the only question is when?

The Northeast Ohio forecast indicates rain changing to snow later tonight and turning windy and colder, but the Ohio Valley forecast provided the Montgomery Dam shows intermittent rain Friday becoming mixed with snow and flurries by tomorrow night. Both agree tomorrow will be colder.

The low will be 27 to 37 tonight after a high today of about 50. The dam recorded 50 Wednesday afternoon and a low this morning of 43, which is what the downtown had at 7 a.m.

Entry Loss Over $100

Burglars took 40 cartons of cigarettes worth approximately $100, plus a 40-pound carton of bananas in an entering between 8:30 p.m. Wednesday and 9:42 a.m. today at the Farmers Market on Mulberry St. operated by Jean Nesselrode, police said.

House Approves $1.1 Billion Bill

Appalachia Aid Measure Waits Johnson Signature

WASHINGTON (AP) — The administration's top-priority Appalachia aid bill has cleared Congress and is ready for President Johnson's signature.

The House approved the $1.1-billion measure Wednesday by a vote of 257 to 165 after 16 attempts by Republicans to amend it were defeated by top-heavy counts and a GOP substitute was rejected 323 to 100. The Senate passed the bill last month.

The President was expected to lose no time approving the bill, one of the major items in his "Great Society" legislative program and the first to be passed.

Subject to later appropriations, the bill would authorize federal funds for programs in tended to bolster the sagging economy of 360 counties in 11 states of the Appalachian area. These states are Alabama, Georgia, Kentucky, Maryland, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina, Tennessee, Virginia and West Virginia.

The door was left open for adding 13 New York counties later.

Most of themoney, $840 million, would be spent during the next five years to build 3,350 miles of highways and access roads, with the government paying up to 70 per cent of the cost.

Another $252.2 million of government money would be used during the next two years to build health facilities, improve farm and timber lands, restore mining areas, develop water resources and boost federal funds available under existing programs. Local contributions of from 20 to 30 per cent would be required for the non-highway programs.

Administration of the program would be by a commission composed of the governor or a representative of each of the 11 states and a member named by the President and having in effect a veto over any commission decisions. No project could be undertaken in any state without the approval of the state.

Joining in the vote that passed the bill were 232 Democrats and 25 Republicans. Voting against it were 56 Democrats and 109 Republicans.

Missing U.S. Pilot Hunted

Viet Suffered Heaviest Casualties In February

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP) — The Vietnamese armed forces suffered their heaviest casualties yet against the Viet Cong during February, U.S. military officials reported today.

The report said 870 men were killed, 1,820 wounded and 1,450 missing. Many of the missing was presumed to have deserted.

The total of 4,140 compared with the previous high of 4,050 in December 1964.

The roll of American combat dead for February totaled 43, also above the monthly average. Most of these men were killed in the Viet Cong attacks on American installations at Pleiku and Qui Nhon, which prompted retaliatory air strikes at North Viet Nam. Eight were killed at Pleiku Feb. 7 and 23 in the bombing of a U.S. enlisted men's billet at Qui Nhon Feb. 10.

U.S. officials estimated the Viet Cong suffered 2,065 casualties, a figure equalled in official reports only twice before — in March and December 1964.

Vietnamese figures on Communist losses are usually some-

Attack Made With Rocks, Ink Bottles

2,000 Drive Back Police, Dispersed By Soviet Soldiers

MOSCOW (AP) — Anti-American demonstrators attacked the U.S. Embassy with rocks and ink bottles today and drove back police with sticks and slingshots before being dispersed by Soviet soldiers.

More than 2,000 students from Moscow and Lumbumbia universities were allowed by police to smash windows and smear the embassy walls with red and blue ink for about 10 minutes.

But when mounted police began to push the mob back it turned in fury.

Extraordinary police security precautions, taken after U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Kohler demanded protection for the embassy on hearing a demonstration was brewing, failed to halt the shouting students.

Several policemen were beaten by groups of demonstrators armed with sticks and other weapons. At least eight students, including two Russians, one African and some Red Chinese and Communist North Vietnamese, were taken into custody.

Windows were smashed in the 10-story embassy as high as the seventh floor by stones and slingshot missiles. Multicolored ink stains were spattered all over the facade.

The damage appeared to newsmen to be more extensive than a similar attack Feb. 9, like this one a demonstration against U.S. air raids on North Viet Nam.

About 300 unarmed soldiers from the Moscow garrison moved into the mob after the students had loosed a barrage of sticks, rocks, snowballs and slingshot missiles that left one policeman with a bloody nose.

Mounted police had used billy clubs and whips to try to drive the crowd from the sidewalk in front of the embassy but were shoved back. Then the soldiers took over.

The disorder was quelled shortly after the appearance of a tough-looking infantryman dressed in heavy overcoats, fur hats and boots. They carried no arms and simply formed solid ranks that slowly shoved the students back from the embassy.

The determined show of force quickly dampened the spirits of the rioters, who had angrily fought the policemen and hurled epithets of "Fascist" at them.

Most of the students quickly drew back and the bulk of the crowd began walking off about 10 minutes after the soldiers appeared.

Red China Bomb Test Expected In Few Days

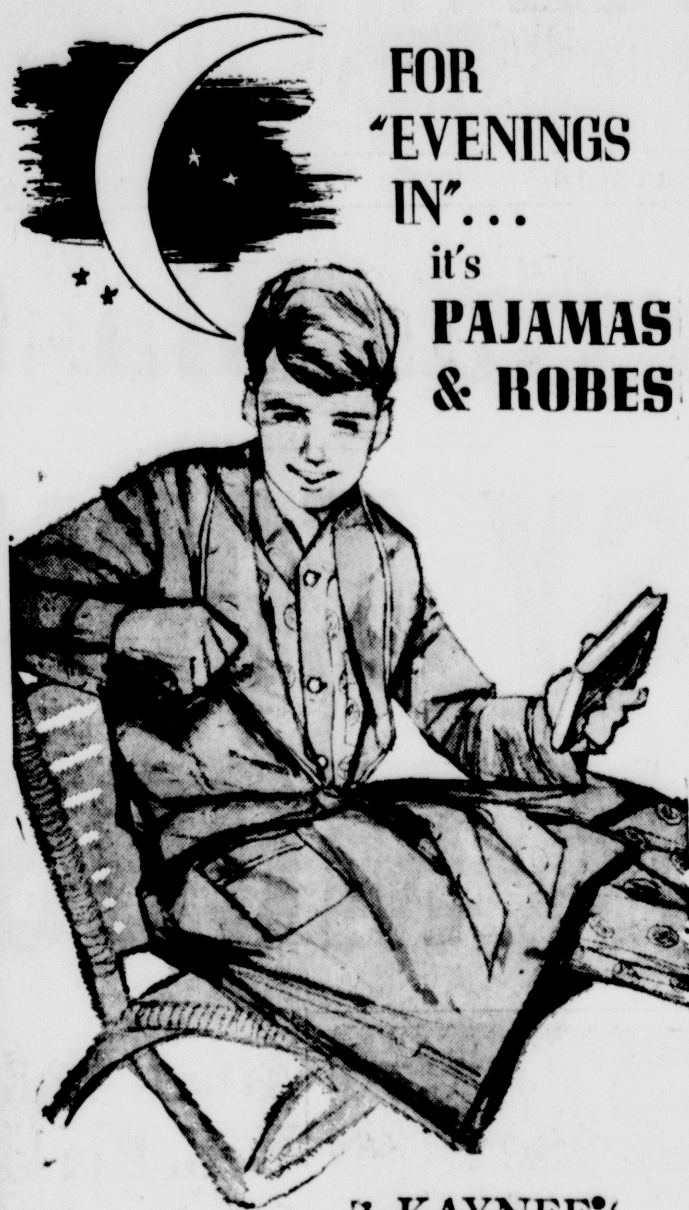

LONDON (AP)—Denis Healey, British defense minister, says Communist China may set off its second nuclear explosion in a few days.

Opening debate in the House of Commons on the new military budget, Healey warned of the possibility of a "rapid chain reaction" that would spread nuclear weapons to all parts of the world.

The U.S. State Department said on Feb. 16 that the United States "has reason to believe the Peking regime is preparing for another nuclear test."

Pennsylvania Legislator Hits Canal As Boondoggle

WASHINGTON — The long-proposed Lake Erie-Ohio River Canal, given new life this week by an Army engineer report, was attacked Wednesday by Rep. Joseph P. Vigorito, D-Pa., as a "boondoggle of the worst type."

The engineering report said the canal would be economically feasible.

Vigorito said he would rather see the United States dig a tunnel between the United States and the British Isles for that much money.

"It would be just as feasible," he said.

The canal's estimated cost is $1,025,000,000.

"Any project is economically feasible if you spend enough money on it," the first-term congressman said.

He said the canal has been a dead issue for years, but special interest groups have continued to whip "this dead horse."

"This latest Corps of Engineers report shows how twisted the issue can become and how any project can be made to smell like a rose if enough perfume is used to cover up the facts," Vigorito added.

The canal would use much of the Beaver and Mahoning Rivers from the Ohio River to the Warren, Ohio, area and thence to Lake Erie through several land cuts and the Grand River. Ten locks are proposed for the 120-mile canal.

The project is now before the Army Engineer Board for Rivers and Harbors. Brig. Gen. W. P. Leber, division engineer at Cincinnati, has reported to the board that a new study has determined the canal to be economically feasible.

Whether Congress will be asked to authorize the project depends on the verdict of the Army board. The canal, if authorized and financed by Congress, would be built by the Army Engineers in its civil functions program.

Deer Struck By Car

A deer struck by an auto early this morning on Route 66 below Waterford Park race track apparently was only stunned and not killed.

An unidentified motorist reported to Chester police that he had killed the deer.

However, deputy sheriffs, county dog warden and county game officer checked the area, saw evidence the animal had been struck but were unable to find it.

what higher. American officials here discount them as not backed up by accurate count in the field.

The American report also listed a new high in loss of government weapons — 2,590 — while the Viet Cong lost 655 weapons in combat.

Indonesia Takeover Involves City Family

An East Liverpool couple and their four children reside on the Goodyear Rubber Co.'s plantation in Sumatra that was taken over by Indonesia last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wolfe of Anderson Blvd. said they have heard from the company but not directly from their son, Donald Wolfe, manager of the plantation. Indonesia also expropriated the nearby U. S. Rubber Co.'s plantation and negotiations are going on between the owners and the Indonesian government at Medan, capital of Sumatra. His wife is Mrs. Elaine Nellis Wolfe, also of East Liverpool. They have been in Sumatra four years.

The Communists lost more than 3,500 weapons captured after the sinking of a munitions ship on the central Vietnamese coast. The ship is believed to have carried the weapons directly from North Viet Nam. This cache was not counted in the report because the weapons were never in combat.

U.S. forces continued their search today for an American pilot missing since his jet fighter-bomber was shot down during the raid on Quang Khe.

The pilot, 1st Lt. Hayden J. Lockhart, of Springfield, Ohio, was flying an F100 assigned Tuesday to knocking out Communist anti-aircraft batteries prior to bomb runs by Vietnamese Skyraiders.

Lockhart was seen bailing out over a wooded area and was presumed to have reached the ground safely. He has not been heard from since and is the only American casualty that has been reported from the raid.

American helicopters and amphibious planes rescued four other American pilots and one Vietnamese who were shot down during the raids Tuesday on the Quang Khe naval base and Xom Bang munitions depot.

Lockhart's father, Hayden J. Lockhart Sr. of Springfield, said the Air Force had informed him search parties had found his son's parachute and helmet. Lockhart's wife is in Alexandria, La.

For security reasons, details of the area where he bailed out have not been given. Quang Khe is 40 miles north of the border with South Viet Nam. Fliers in Viet Nam carry small portable radios that can send out a homing beam for rescue aircraft.

Members of Lockhart's squadron at Da Nang Air Base, 100 miles south of the border, stood ready to launch planes to support any ground rescue operation. They would spray the area with rockets and machine-gun fire to enable rescue helicopters to reach the pilot once he was located.

A report by the Vietnamese air force Wednesday that three unidentified planes apparently tried to intercept Vietnamese bombers returning from Tuesday's raid proved to be a case of mistaken identity.

Common Pleas Court Disposes Of 81 Cases

LISBON — Common Pleas Court disposed of 81 cases during February, with the docket showing a net decline of eight, according to Clerk of Courts Carl L. Stacey's report to the administrative assistant of the State Supreme Court.

Feb. 1, there were 792 cases pending and 73 new cases were filed, for a total of 865. During the month, disposal of 81 cases left a total of 784 pending March 1.

Thirty-six were tried to court, three by jury, four were cognovit and default judgments and 38 were settled and dismissed.

The Court of Appeals showed two cases filed and one disposed of during February, leaving six ment of Cippolone was not rejected because the Senate "failed to act." An attorney general's opinion is being awaited on constitutional language which says, in effect, that if the Senate takes no action on an appointment submitted during the legislative session then the appointment is automatically approved.

Republicans claim 17 votes are needed to reject an appointment just as 17 are needed to confirm. Democrats claim any total short of 17 rejects the appointment.

Brown said he had conferred with the attorney general on the question and that he was not out of order in rejecting King's appeal.

At that point, the Democratic leader rose, pounding his desk and declared: "The attorney general is not running this Senate, and the executive department is not going to take over this Senate."

Majority Leader Theodore M. Gray, R-Miami, moved for a recess, during which leaders of both parties caucused for a showdown. When they returned to the chamber, Brown announced his ruling would stand but that he would allow King's appeal.

Democrats then voted against a motion to sustain the chair's ruling and Cippolone's appointment was rejected, for the time being at least.

Hancock GOP Club Sets Drive

David Wern of Pughtown, newly-installed president, designated March as Membership Drive Month at a meeting of the Hancock County Young Republicans Club in New Cumberland Tuesday night.

Wern announced that any Hancock County resident between 18 and 39 is eligible for active membership, and that associate memberships will be accepted for persons outside this age group. Robert Law of Weirton was named membership chairman.

Mr. and Mrs. Wern will represent the local club at the state executive committee meeting of the Young Republicans Club Saturday in Clarksburg.

The next meeting will be held April 6.

Man In Gun Mishap To Be Given Hearing

LISBON — A preliminary hearing for Richard (Dick) Martin, 21, of near Dunganon will be held March 12 at 2 p. m. before County Judge James L. MacDonald.

Martin was charged with carrying a concealed weapon following a shooting mishap Saturday night in Stephanie's Tavern in Kensington.

Authorities allege Martin was showing a fancy pistol to a companion when it discharged, hitting Martin in the hand. The bullet then lodged in the wrist of Patrick Messenger, 16, of Lisbon R. D. 1, who was standing by the table at which Martin was seated.

He was released under $500 bond.

net total of 8,589 as the enrollment campaign opens.

The total is down more than 4,000 from the all-time high of 12,642 listed for the November 1940 presidential election. Most of the registration loss since the end of World War II has been attributed to migration to new residential areas immediately outside the city limits in Liverpool and St. Clair Townships.

Persons who have moved since voting last must record "transfers" — changes of address. Persons who have changed their names by marriage or court action since voting last also must register again under their new names.

Any person who will be 21 on or before the general election date Nov. 2 may register and vote in the primaries. The procedure is known as "voting on age."

On the last three days of the enrollment campaign — March 22-24, inclusive — the Election Board will follow its usual 12-hour schedule of continuous office hours. The office will be open continually from 9 a. m. until 9 p. m., including the lunch and dinner hours, to give voters every opportunity to qualify.

The board reminded that East Liverpool is the only Columbiana County subdivision in which voter registration is required.

Low-Cost Housing May Be Near

Low-cost federally-financed housing for older residents and others in the lower-income brackets looms as a definite possibility here in the not too distant future as the result of a discussion held this week.

The establishment and operation of such a housing plan was outlined by Paul J. Durbak, director of the Steubenville Metropolitan Housing Authority, during a meeting at City Hall.

A program of this nature would have to be placed at the top or near the top of any "Badly-Needed" list of community projects.

It was extremely gratifying, therefore, that a group of city councilmen at the meeting indicated speedy action on steps necessary to set up a metropolitan authority here and clear the way for the program. While the legislators were acting informally at the time, attending the discussion merely as interested spectators, they left little doubt as to their intentions of following through on the matter. And it can be assumed that those who were unable to attend Tuesday night will readily go along with the project once they have been apprised of the facts.

As Mr. Durbak pointed out, low-cost housing isn't something that can be realized overnight. He advised the local audience that at least three years will be required before the first units could be expected to become available in view of the various steps that must be taken under the federal program.

Three years would be but a drop in the time bucket, however, to those struggling with budgets far inadequate to meet the needs of modern-day living through no fault of their own.

Council will be performing another community service by officially setting in motion the machinery for the housing program.

Even Napoleon Thought Of It

In a happier time to come, militarists will use hindsight to judge the fighting in South Viet Nam. One great militarist of his generation, Gen. Douglas MacArthur, already was using it when he advised President Kennedy not to get embroiled in a land war in Asia. Gen. MacArthur had been through a futile land war campaign in Korea.

The chief of the armed services at that time, President Harry Truman, did not want to commit the United States to fight an all-out war with the Chinese People's Republic. The chief of the armed services today, President Lyndon Johnson, does not want to fight an all-out war against the Chinese People's Republic.

The situation is comparable. Over-commitment is a fatal error in militarism. Battles must be fought to win. Otherwise, they should not be fought at all.

Even Napoleon thought of it in his time. There are places on the earth where military victory is out of reach. Korea is one. The ineffable "nations" of Indo-China are the worst conceivable battlegrounds—Laos with its mountains and valleys, Viet Nam with its marshes, rice paddies and jungles. For Napoleon, the long reaches of Russia represented the ultimate frustration.

U.S. aviators flying missions against the Viet Cong report they cannot see what their bombs have hit. The jungle keeps its secrets.

In one tragic sortie, U.S. planes killed and wounded South Viet Nam troops, another blow to the morale of people who never have been sure they wanted to fight in the first place.

President Johnson and his military advisers are confronted with one of the toughest decisions they ever will make—whether U.S. prestige depends on making a last-ditch fight in a ditch, or finding more suitable terrain.

Freedom To Advertise

It is always regrettable when pressure blocs blunder into the silly tactic of trying to burn down the barn to rescue a pet horse.

A bill is being sponsored in the Ohio Legislature by some of this state's pharmacists and physicians to prohibit the advertising of prescription drugs.

The purpose of the advertising is to let users of prescription drugs know where they can get the most for their money. In this era of increasingly widespread use of such drugs, the buyer is entitled to know the facts of the marketplace. Prescription drugs have become a major item in many household budgets.

As far as advertising media are concerned, there can be no legitimate argument for this bill. Freedom to advertise anything that can be sold legally is an absolute right. It cannot be circumscribed by anyone trying to get a favorite horse into a safer place. It would be unconstitutional to try.

If a professional group wants to use pressure inside its own membership to prevent advertising, nothing can be done about that; it's an inside fight. But no professional, no occupational group, no bloc, no coalition of barn-burners has any right to try to prohibit legitimate advertising by statute, not in Ohio, not in any state of the Union.

The First Amendment to the U.S. Constitution says so. Freedom of the press cannot be abridged.

Urban Sprawl And Hunters

Stark County Rep. Bernice K. MacKenzie and Stark County Rep. Mary McGowan are pushing a bill in the Ohio Legislature to prohibit shooting at game within 400 feet of an inhabited dwelling.

The purpose, obviously, is to protect human life and limb against zealous nimrods who get carried away by the joy of hot pursuit and bang away at rabbits, pheasants, squirrels, cows, ponies, dogs and even at other nimrods, without regard to terrified noncombatants.

Urban sprawl has taken over many one-time wide-open spaces through which old-time hunters ranged, shooting at anything that moved. What moves these days may be a neighborhood child, a pet dog, a Siamese cat, an escaped parakeet, or the lady of the house filling the trash-burner.

Hunting should be under blanket prohibition in built-up areas. Prohibiting gunfire within 400 feet of inhabited dwellings would turn into a technical mixup of foot-ages and definitions of inhabited dwellings.

Ohio should get ready to close entire townships to hunters, for the protection of everything therein that is unwilling to be shot at without a declaration of war. Hunters have their rights but so do the suburbanites.

Coeducation

Eventually, all colleges will be coeducational.

The question is how soon. Latest to open preliminary skirmishing is Kenyon College, Yale of the Midwest.

Princeton has been hassling for a long time. Harvard and Yale and all the other Ivy League schools have been talking. Even Dartmouth, which operates in splendid isolation several hundred miles from anywhere, has flirted with coeducation by opening its campus to girl students in the summer term.

Dartmouth is hoping to get its students on a year-around basis in the near future, see. Girls for summer might be an inducement. Thus, it goes.

The trend is established. All that's in doubt is the timing.

The myth of monasticism was shattered when autos and airplanes did away with geographic isolation. Further damage was done during World War II when some of the chaste institutions that had catered to young ladies let in the boys.

The myth no longer was worth cherishing when female teachers were added to the faculties of formerly all-male colleges and universities.

Eventually, why not now?

There is only one thing to fear—classroom competition. As far as women on the campus are concerned, they are there now. Coeducation merely will add to the variety—and the classroom competition.

That's where the sticking point will come in the tough decisions—whether the young gentlemen and their instructors are braced and ready for the shock of academic competition from the opposite sex.

Some of them will be jarred out of a rosy illusion when the young ladies who qualify for college these days start to batter them with their own books.

There always has been a survivalist tendency of beleaguered males to take refuge in boys' school, all-male colleges, cronies and clubs when the opposite sex got on his nerves.

It once was feasible—this retreat from reality.

But there is no way any more to get away from the eternal female.

She is ubiquitous. She even runs for presidential nominations.

It is the part of wisdom to get along with her on everyday terms. Coeducation is no-credit course in human survival. It offers femininity at its best and worst. It is a two-way challenge. It does something for the girls as well as the boys. And it's inevitable.

All that remains in doubt is when it will happen in the places that have resisted it, after a fashion. After a fashion, haw!

Do As I Say, Not As I Do!

Reuther's Active, Though Silent

By Victor Riesel

Walter Reuther's strange bursts of silence have nothing to do with his recent lung operation.

He has fully recovered from surgery of his barrel chest. For a man who neither smokes nor drinks he is in good shape and quite ready to use his lung power when the time comes.

He awaits the moment with caution. He chose silence during the recent session of labor's high command council in Florida because he is a leader-in-waiting in the court of labor.

Reuther has not junked his dreams of unleashing wide organizing drives. Those who think so forget he still is head of the AFL-CIO's national organizing department.

Though publicly he appears to be standing still, he is quietly working behind the scenes with many dynamic young labor leaders who still are as unknown as the last names of Damon and Pythias.

REUTHER CAN afford to wait for these men of the second and third echelon leadership to develop strength—and to build a new unionism.

He is 57. Many of those who have fought him are his elders by more than a decade. In Florida, Reuther did not try to out some of the old-timers from labor's high command. Instead, he conjectured that the new unionism would drive them out in a year or two.

"There is a new unionism," asserted one of the men who has been his intimate for years. "Things are stirring. Walter is quietly helping them to stir in areas one would least expect to see hard-headed, well-organized union drives."

To the Reuther people the new unionism consists of the surging militancy among the teachers, insurance company employees, federal workers, those in state, county and municipal offices, and even the new young scientists and technicians of the space age.

Typical are the Reuther-sparked unionizing campaigns to sign up one million school teachers—not only in the big cities but in suburbia.

THE BIG PUSH among the teachers will be the pattern for assistance in the rest of the non-blue collar and professional fields. Most of this aid comes from a virtually unknown section of the AFL-CIO known as the Industrial Union Department (IUD).

Reuther heads it. With a treasury totaling more than $3 million and an affiliated membership of 5 million it can move hard and swiftly.

In recent months it has set up new teachers' unionizing units every few weeks. The newest are in Long Island, New York, upper Michigan and sections of California.

The strategy is similar to what was devised when Reuther and other IUD officials met in New York City several years back to crack the first target—the big town's 40,000 teachers.

EXPERIENCED organizers were brought in. A "very substantial sum of money" was lent to the new United Federation of Teachers. College men were hired as temporary organizers. When money ran short, the IUD signed its guarantee to bank notes for big loans.

Some of Reuther's organizers were in the city for more than a year, some for a few months. Thus it has been in Philadelphia, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Milwaukee, Boston and a string of other communities across the land.

Leader of the New York teachers, 55-year-old Charles Cogen, later shifted to the national American Federation of Teachers in Chicago. He was replaced in the city by lanky 38-year-old militant, Al Shanker, now talking of striking the huge school system on opening day next September.

NONE OF THIS is hit and miss. There is a blueprint for action. The IUD matches the money raised by the teachers unions and in each locality.

Then manpower is poured in. The drive on the school system is carefully planned after the sociological measurements of the community are taken.

In some fashion or other, this technique is—and will be—used in burgeoning space industries, among the technicians and professionals.

Merely substitute a "think factory", a federal bureau, a municipal building, an experimental installation or an insurance firm for a public school and you have the pattern.

While Reuther waits, he makes peace with many of the veterans of the powerful building and construction trades—whose unions number over 3 million members. This he did quite actively in Florida last week.

So, silence from Walter Reuther means nothing. One can be on the march without awakening echoing thunder across the land.

Dental Society Explains Fluoridation

The East Liverpool District Dental Society, which encompasses Wellsville, Chester, Newell and Calcutta, has endorsed controlled fluoridation of community water supply as a safe, economical method of preventing tooth decay.

Committees of this society have been contacting civic groups, schools, PTA's, clubs and city councils, urging that the children of this community are not deprived of this necessary health measure which has been proven by reputable scientific studies.

Unfortunately, fluoridation has become a controversial issue, not because any detriment has been proven from its use, but because the idea is frightening to some individuals. The antidotes for these baseless fears are scientific data and public education.

First—what is fluoridation? Adding fluoride (a natural substance that is found in varying degrees in all drinking water and many foods) to water to prevent tooth decay is called "fluoridation."

EXPERIENCE HAS shown that the best effect is obtained when the fluoride content is one part to a million of water. Water fluoridation enables children to grow stronger teeth. It is completely safe. It is the most effective and least costly preventive dental health measure available. Tooth enamel containing the right amount of fluoride resists decay far better than enamel which is fluoride deficient. Research has repeatedly verified that between one-half and two-thirds of new tooth decay is prevented.

Over 45,000,000 people in the United States live in cities and towns that have adopted water fluoridation programs. These include Chicago, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, St. Louis, Cleveland, Washington, Baltimore, St. Paul, Buffalo, Milwaukee, Providence, Miami, Rochester and New York City. Cities closer to East Liverpool include Chester, Lisbon, Salem, Martins Ferry and Youngstown. Thirty-four per cent of the state of Tennessee has controlled fluoridation and the state advertises this fact on billboards on highways.

More than 183,000 people in Ohio have been drinking water containing one part per million or more of fluorine for generations because the mineral is present in the water without any control. Scientific surveys of these communities and others with controlled fluoridation show that there is no proven difference in the effects of the fluoridation in the prevention of tooth decay whether natural or added. Studies of the adult population for possible injury or ailment due to fluoridation have been completely negative. According to the Kettering Institute, which has 8,500 articles on scientific studies and surveys on fluoridation, not one proven case of any harmful effects has been noted. It is obvious that opponents of water fluoridation use arguments which combine politics, prejudice and pseudo-science. Almost all of them have done no work themselves on the subject. Milwaukee instituted fluoridation in July of 1953. Free hospitalization and care was offered to any person who felt his health was impaired in any way because of fluoridated water. Not a single person has taken advantage of this offer.

WE CAN POINT with pride to the fact that every recognized major professional organization has confirmed this health advance. Among the supporting groups are the following: American Medical Association, American Academy of Pediatrics, American Association for the Advancement of Science, American Cancer Society, American College of Dentists, American Dental Association, American Hospital Association, American Nurses Association, American Pharmaceutical Association, American Public Health Association, American Public Welfare Association, American School Health Association, American Society of Dentistry for Children, American Water Works Association, College of American Pathologists, Commission on Chronic Illness, Conference of State Sanitary Engineers, Industrial Medical Association, Inter-Association Committee on Health, National Institute of Municipal Law Officers, National Research Council and State and Territorial Health Officers Association.

All three branches of the United States Department of Defense, the Army, Navy and Air Force, have added fluorides to water at bases where children of service personnel are stationed.

Two agencies of the United States Department of Health, Education and Welfare (the Food and Drug Administration and the Public Health Service) squarely favor water fluoridation. Among the civic, business and labor interests, endorsing this health measure: the American Federation of Labor and Congress of Industrial Organizations (AFL-CIO) the American Legion, Child Study Association of America, Joint Committee on Health Problems of the American Medical Association and the National Education Association, National Congress of Parents and Teachers, United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, heads of Departments of Preventive Medicine at 68 accredited medical colleges.

We believe that we have pointed out an effective health measure that will be of great value to the future dental health in this area. We have nothing personal to gain from this effort, but believe the dental health of the community is our responsibility. Whether our efforts are successful depends entirely on the citizenry and their elected officials.

(The above letter is signed by Dr. M. Alpern, president of the East Liverpool Dental Society, and Dr. A. A. Turner, chairman of the society's Public Relations Committee.)

Thoughts Offered On Post Office

As an interested citizen, I have followed the stories regarding a site for a new post office and out of all the material I have read there's only one piece of information that has made sense to me.

Miss Gladys DeBolt, a member of a planning commission study group, asked if prices have been obtained on nearby property to allow expansion of the present post office. Can or will anyone answer this question?

Or by answering it would it embarrass too many property owners and real estate people more interested in their own financial gain?

Laundered Oil

The black slime that drains from cars undergoing an oil change has been turned into a salable commodity.

This used oil oozes from engines at the present rate of 600 million quarts a year, enough to fill every bathtub in New York, San Francisco and several other large cities.

By laundering the waste, the nation's re-refiners—a fairly new industry—can produce 400 million quarts of lubricants reputed to be as good or better than the original.

Since laundered oil has actually been refined three times—first by the original processor; second by the engine, which breaks down some weaker hydrocarbons, and third by the re-refiner—some sports and stock car racers insist upon it. Other users are bus lines and railroads.

Re-use of oil not only helps conserve the nation's petroleum resources, it solves an enormous pollution problem, the National Geographic Society says.

Chauffeur-Driven Vehicle

Liz Taylor's Car Kills Aged Woman In Ireland

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP)—"My God! My God! My God!" cried Elizabeth Taylor, jumping from her Rolls Royce and pillowing the dying Irish widow on a milk coat.

Sobbing hysterically, the film star rushed to aid Alice Ryan Wednesday after her chauffeur-driven car struck the 76-year-old woman. A spokesman for Miss Taylor said Mrs. Ryan stepped into the path of the car.

The accident occurred as Miss Taylor and her French chauffeur, Gaston Sanz, were returning from the funeral in France of Sanz' 17-year-old son. He was killed at a shooting gallery under circumstances which have not been clarified.

"I saw Miss Taylor get out of the car," a bystander said. "She was staggering about in the roadway with her hands to her head, crying and sobbing."

"Then she walked to the dying woman, rolled her milk coat into a pillow and tried to comfort her while they waited for an ambulance."

Miss Taylor followed the ambulance to the hospital where Mrs. Ryan was pronounced dead.

Sanz was driving Miss Taylor from the airport to a studio where her husband, Richard Burton, was making a film. Burton was notified and went with the chauffeur to a police station.

Authorities said no charge had been filed.

A spokesman for Miss Taylor said Mrs. Ryan had walked onto a stretch of road with no speed limit and it was impossible to avoid her. The car skidded 50 yards and came to a stop facing the way it had come. It was badly damaged.

Midland Kaycee Will Honor 2 At Dinner May 22

Midland Council 2005, Knights of Columbus, will honor two members, Ralph F. Scaler, judge of Common Pleas Court of Beaver County and Robert J. Masters, county prosecutor, at a testimonial dinner May 22 at the St. Anthony Club.

Angelo Cellini, grand knight, said tribute will be paid them for their personal achievements in public life, for their contribution to many and various service organizations and for the prestige they have brought to the Knights of Columbus through their membership.

The Most Rev. John J. Wright, bishop of the Pittsburgh Diocese, will be principal speaker. Also scheduled to attend is Carmen R. Capone of Pittsburgh, state deputy of the Pennsylvania Knights of Columbus.

Cellini said that proceeds will be designated as the Midland Council's contribution to the Bishop Wright Project. Through this project, the Knights of Columbus of Pittsburgh Diocese raise funds for the expansion and improvements of educational facilities at St. Anthony School for Exceptional Children in Oakmont, and at the Maguire Home for retarded children in New Brighton.

Committees will be appointed, Cellini said.

Radio's 'Lone Ranger' Buried In Michigan

TROY, Mich. (AP) — Brace Beemer, radio's "Lone Ranger" of a past day, was buried in White Chapel Cemetery Wednesday.

A white floral spray in the design of a great stallion marked the flower tribute at services in Epiphany Lutheran Church in nearby Detroit.

Beemer, who starred with his horse "Silver" on the famed show, died Monday at 62.

Rev. E. H. Buchheimer said in the funeral service that Beemer's show taught hundreds of thousands of American children that "right will prevail, evil will be defeated."

Mayor Sees Housing Plan Non-Partisan

Mayor Merrill D. Hall stressed the proposed low-cost housing program is non-partisan and that "neither Republicans nor Democrats can take credit" when he addressed the East Liverpool Area Men's Republican Club Wednesday night at the Potters Savings Loan Co. annex.

The first explanation on the housing program was given councilmen and others Tuesday night by Paul J. Durbak, director of the Steubenville Metropolitan Housing Authority, who was invited by Mayor Hall.

Robert Bell of Steubenville, 18th District committeeman, also spoke on the housing program in the Jefferson County seat.

Following the talks by Mayor Hall and Bell, the club voted to endorse the program.

Forty attended the meeting at which several candidates in the May 4 primary spoke.

Richard Brian reported tickets have been sold out for the Lincoln Day dinner Tuesday night in Columbus.

Richard Allison, president, presided and a financial report was given by Lawrence Sixt. Prayer was offered by Sheridan Leasure. Joseph Savage of Steubenville was a guest.

The club will hold a joint meeting with the women's organization April 7 at the annex.

Feeding Prisoners Cost County $1,061

LISBON — It cost $1,061.33 to serve 2,801 meals at the Columbiana County Jail during February, Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan reports in his monthly summary. The average food cost per prisoner was $1.13 per day.

The jail received 58 prisoners last month in addition to the 30 already confined as of Feb. 1. Fifty-nine were released during the month, six were conveyed to state institutions and five mental patients were taken to state hospitals. The jail had 213 visitors.

The sheriff said 241 papers were served and 5,935 radio transmissions and 1,227 telephone calls were handled at the jail. Fees totaling $1,162.80 were collected. Thirteen sets of fox feet and ears were turned in at the sheriff's office in the Courthouse for the $3 bounty.

World's Greatest Highway Program

U.S. Interstate System Over Halfway Completed

WASHINGTON (AP) — Construction on the world's greatest highway program yet conceived — the 41,000-mile U.S. interstate system — is past the halfway mark and just about on schedule.

The program was set up by Congress in 1956 and set 1972 as the target date for completion.

It will consist of 41,000 miles of high-speed highways to connect the nation's principal metropolitan areas, cities and industrial centers and to serve as a defense network of roads if needed.

The system generally is designed to take motorists whizzing along without worries about intersections, traffic lights and jammed city streets.

Today, a little more than eight years after the program was launched, 19,018 miles are open for traffic; construction is under way on another 5,196 miles, while engineering work or right-of-way acquisition is in progress for another 12,103.

The remaining 4,680 miles in the system are listed by the Bureau of Public Roads as in preliminary status or not started.

Thus, about 89 per cent of the system is open or under way. The bureau says the program is about on schedule and that completion in 1972 is possible. However, time is getting short.

for the drafting of plans for the unstarted segments, a spokesman said.

The pinch, he said, will be on segments in the urban areas — the roads designed to take traffic through, under or around cities. These portions of the system are costly because of the high value of the rights of way involved and frequently the routes are controversial.

When the interstate system was authorized by Congress it called for a network of 40,000 miles of highways to cost an estimated $28 billion. The mileage has been increased to more than 41,000 and the latest cost estimated by the roads administrator, Rex M. Whitton, is $46.8 billion.

The latest estimate represents a $5.8-billion increase over the estimate submitted to Congress in 1961.

Through 1964, a total of $21.7 billion had been spent on the interstate system, roughly $19 billion of it federal money and $2.6 billion state money.

The federal share is financed by highway users through taxes on gasoline, new trucks and buses, tires and tubes and the like.

The directors suggested the money be used as awards in individual school science fairs or for other expenses in science programs.

Beaver Local High School topped area schools with $75 while East Liverpool Westgate received $65; Beaver Local Elementary, $55; East Liverpool High School, $25 and Chester Junior High and Lisbon Lincoln, $15 each.

Salem Junior High received top money of $90. Other schools and the amounts they received were:

S. C. Dennis School of Toronto, $75; Steubenville Harding Junior High, $55; Seton Central High of Lafferty, $40; Steubenville High, $27.84; Steubenville Central Catholic, $27.83; Richmond Elementary, $25; Barnesville High, $20; Wellsburg High, $15, and Jefferson Union High and Bellaire St. John's, $10 each.

The directors suggested the money be used as awards in individual school science fairs or for other expenses in science programs.

They will be open from 1 to 9 p. m. and any resident of Beaver County may register at these or any of 14 other field registration places to be conducted at various times throughout the county.

James B. Keifer, chief registrar, said that March 19 is the last day to record removal from one district to another and the registration deadline is March 29.

He said the office at the Courthouse will be open March 29 from 8.30 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Science Fair Funds Issued To 17 Schools

Proportionate shares of funds remaining in the treasury of disbanded Tri-State Science Fair, Inc., have been distributed to 17 schools, including six in this area.

The Board of Directors earlier had voted to divide the $645.57 to participating schools, according to the extent of their participation in the last three fairs.

Beaver Local High School topped area schools with $75 while East Liverpool Westgate received $65; Beaver Local Elementary, $55; East Liverpool High School, $25 and Chester Junior High and Lisbon Lincoln, $15 each.

Salem Junior High received top money of $90. Other schools and the amounts they received were:

S. C. Dennis School of Toronto, $75; Steubenville Harding Junior High, $55; Seton Central High of Lafferty, $40; Steubenville High, $27.84; Steubenville Central Catholic, $27.83; Richmond Elementary, $25; Barnesville High, $20; Wellsburg High, $15, and Jefferson Union High and Bellaire St. John's, $10 each.

The directors suggested the money be used as awards in individual school science fairs or for other expenses in science programs.

They will be open from 1 to 9 p. m. and any resident of Beaver County may register at these or any of 14 other field registration places to be conducted at various times throughout the county.

James B. Keifer, chief registrar, said that March 19 is the last day to record removal from one district to another and the registration deadline is March 29.

He said the office at the Courthouse will be open March 29 from 8.30 a. m. to 9 p. m.

Midland Sets Voter Signup

Midland area voters may register and record a change of address or party affiliation March 19 at the Borough Building, according to a tentative schedule announced by the Beaver County Registration Commission.

Registration will be held for Hanover Township area voters at the South Side School on Tuesday.

Senator Asks Foreign Aid Bill Changes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. J. W. Fulbright asked Congress today to make major changes in the Johnson administration's "single package" $3.38-billion foreign aid bill.

Fulbright, chairman of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, called for a separation of military and economic assistance, greater selectivity in countries and projects to be aided, long-range authorizations and a heavy shift from direct U.S. development loans to multilateral lending by international institutions.

But he emphasized he was not criticizing the theory of foreign aid or the size of the administration's request.

In a speech prepared for Senate delivery, Fulbright recalled serving notice on the administration last October he would refuse to lead the fight in the Senate again for an omnibus measure lumping all direct foreign aid into one omnibus bill.

The administration, after a declaration by Rep. Thomas E. Morgan, D-Pa., chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, that he was "unalterably opposed" to separating the legislation, sent up an omnibus bill. The House unit is in the midst of hearings on it.

Fulbright said he has had "a notable lack of success" over the years in attempts to separate the programs.

"I had hoped that this year the administration might begin," the Arkansas Democrat said. "I still hope that Congress, on its own initiative, will begin the separation of military and economic ingredients of the package and will put substantially more of the development lending program under multilateral management."

As a starter, Fulbright said he was introducing today as a separate bill one part of President Johnson's $3.38-billion foreign aid request — that dealing with proposed economic aid. It calls for $2.2 billion in appropriations for the fiscal year starting July 1.

He said he was not introducing legislation to support the White House request for more than $1.17 billion in military aid because of his objection to "mixing military and economic assistance," and his belief that military assistance should be part of the defense budget.

Later, after the Foreign Relations Committee starts hearings Tuesday on the foreign aid legislation, Fulbright said he will offer other amendments.

Fund Drive Pushed 2 CSF Aides Plan Trip To State Seminar Event

Mrs. Rebecca Turk of East Liverpool, president of the Area Citizens Scholarship Foundation, and Joseph Coons, vice president, will attend a meeting for CSF aides throughout Ohio Saturday at Columbus. Some 300 are expected.

Dr. Irving Fradkin, founder of the CSF movement, and Robert Taft, former Ohio congressman, will be speakers at the workshop symposium.

Coons, campaign vice president and former president, will speak at an afternoon workshop along with William Norris, president of the newly formed Ohio CSF organization.

Mrs. Turk said the 1965 fund drive of the area CSF, which has a goal of $35,000, has been lagging, but an intensive effort is planned to spur the campaign to completion.

Funds from the "Dollars For Scholars" drive are used to aid qualified students from seven area school districts in attending college.

Mrs. Turk pointed out the program is designed to help local students who have not been able to obtain other scholarship assistance or whose families lack the necessary funds.

"CSF is not intended to obtain its funds merely through a few large corporate gifts — its ultimate goal is to receive $1 or more from each person in the individual school districts."

By contributing $1 a person is entitled to membership in the foundation, she said, adding all such contributions are tax deductible.

Mrs. Turk said the area CSF is ranked second in the nation in the amount of money raised and scholarships awarded, edged only by Fall River, Mass., where the CSF movement was founded by Dr. Fradkin.

She said the house-to-house drives in Midland and Wellsville will begin March 15. Two new trustees have been named for Wellsville — Sam Amato and John Cataldo.

The committee will meet Wednesday at a place to be announced.

A young district motorist was acquitted today in Municipal Court by Acting Judge Ben H. Berman on a charge he violated the city's anti-noise ordinance Tuesday night by racing the motor of his pickup truck and squealing the tires.

Lawrence A. Green of R. D. 1 was absolved of the charge after the court heard testimony from Lt. Kenneth H. Mooney, one of the officers who took him into custody at 11:08 p. m. at 5th and Market Sts., and rebuttal from the defendant.

Lt. Mooney said he and Patrolman Paul C. Blevins were at 5th and Market Sts. when they heard the noise of the truck pulling away from 4th and Market Sts. and heading in their direction.

"The motor was roaring and the tires squealed," he said. He added that the "noise was loud and unnecessary for that time of night." The screeching of the tires resulted "from a high rate of acceleration," he said.

Green testified that he accelerated the motor of the truck in pulling away from a traffic light "because the clutch was slipping and I had to do it to get it moving." He said the truck was loaded with some concrete blocks. But he denied that the tires squealed.

The acting judge said there was "no question the defendant raced the motor and made noise," but he decided it did not fall within the provisions of the city ordinance. He read the section aloud before passing judgment. The ordinance prohibits "creation of any unreasonably loud, disturbing or unnecessary noise of such character, intensity or duration as to be detrimental to the life or health of an individual or in disturbance of the public peace and welfare."

Green had pleaded not guilty to the charge at arraignment Wednesday.

Meanwhile, Joseph H. Cornell, 50, of 172 Montana Ave., Chester, was fined $15 and costs on a charge filed by the State Highway Patrol after five bales of hay allegedly spilled off his truck onto the Chester Bridge Wednesday night.

He was charged with operating a vehicle on which the load was "not secured so as to prevent it from spilling from the vehicle." Cornell was cited at 6:10 p. m. He pleaded guilty.

Hints from Heloise

— By Heloise Cruse —

Dear Heloise: My daughter has four children under eight years of age.

She must think of every time saving device.

She has found an electric blender (not mixer) one of her most helpful items. When she prepares meat (which has been cooked, but not fried) for the family, she places a small amount of the meat along with enough baby formula to mix in her blender.

In seconds she has baby's meat. This idea is also perfect to use for cooked fruits and vegetables.

When she has finished blending, she pours each blended food into a plastic (ice tray).

After the food is completely frozen, she removes it and places the cubes in plastic bags and then into her home freezer.

When she is warming the baby's formula... she places one cube of fruit, meat, and vegetable into a sectional egg poacher and all of the baby's meal is ready in a few minutes.

Enough food may be prepared for one week in only a few minutes by the above method. I wonder how I lived to be a grandmother without your most helpful column. I have enjoyed it very much.

GRANDMOTHER.
And I wonder what we ever did without sweet grandmother like you!!!

HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: After I polish all my brass or brass-plated materials and the object has been thoroughly washed and dried... I wipe all over it with self-polishing floor wax!

Try to leave an even coating on all parts. This will insure protection from moisture and the causes of corrosion, and preserve the finish for a long time.

UNCLE CHARLES.

I have held this letter for six months. My house is full of brass. I have all kinds... Chinese, Indian, Japanese and American.

I find this has not hurt my brass, does keep it from getting fingerprints and helps prevent tarnish.

Thank you, Unc Charles.
NIECE HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: In answer to a question you once asked, I've learned that the only difference between "flammable" and "inflammable" is "in".

In other words... both are combustible!

D.P.
DEAR FOLKS: You know those wire clothes hangers that are usually painted black and have a piece of cardboard across the bottom? The ones men's trousers usually come back on from the cleaners?

Don't throw them away! They make the greatest skirt hangers in this whole wide world.

Just take two BIG safety pins and pin one on each end of the hanger, around the wire on the bottom and through the folded piece of cardboard.

Then all we have to do is pin one to each side of the band on our skirt and hang the matching coat over it.

At least the same skirt is hanging with its coat. The skirt will not slip because the cardboard keeps the pin from sliding.

Out of all the things I have tried, the fabulous skirt hangers, etc., etc., (and, that means everything) this is the best I have come across yet.
HELOISE.

DEAR HELOISE: Today, quite by accident, I found a way to eliminate standing at the ironing board and ironing six uniforms each week.

I washed a dacron uniform of mine, according to directions, then rinsed it in a softener, and tossed it into the drier. I took the uniform from the drier as soon as the dryer stopped and was amazed to find that it was wrinkle-free!

I thought I would pass this on to other women who wear white dacron uniforms!

WOMAN-IN-WHITE.

Bringing Up A Family

By DR. GARRY MYERS

Fasting Marks The Lenten Season

Just starting is a period known among Christians as Lent. It is a period in which some of these Christians choose to make certain personal sacrifices and self-denials in honor of the memory of Jesus Christ who chose to bear His sufferings on the cross — the period approaching East-Dr. Garry Myers Undoubtedly, they derive moral and spiritual values from this self-discipline. Any person who chooses, on his own accord, to give up some pleasure in accordance with a determined purpose, and succeeds in attaining this purpose, seems to have gained something precious in character growth.

Therefore, during this period of Lent we should have good reasons for admiring those who observe Lent in good conscience, and for applauding them in their determination. Certainly we have good reason never to make fun of them, or belittle their endeavors or to make their way hard in any manner. We should want our children to have like attitudes toward them.

MORE specifically, if you or I, in case we didn't observe Lent, knew a certain boy or girl or an older person had decided to go without candy during Lent, we certainly would not wish to tempt them to fail in this purpose by offering to them candy during Lent. If, inadvertently, we did so, and it was refused, we should choose to compliment them on their moral courage and apologize for our having been so thoughtless and rude.

Fasting or partial fasting during Lent has all sorts of parallels — the devout Catholic not eating meat on Friday, the Orthodox Jew not eating pork at any time, or its avoidance and that of alcoholic liquor, by the faithful Moslem. Historically, fasting has been practiced from ancient days in all sorts of ways. How such practices started is of relatively small significance, but the personal self-discipline related to such is of great import.

Indeed, anything which any person makes himself do or keep from doing for a cherished purpose, so long as such brings no harm to anybody else, should arouse our respect, even our admiration. The harder such personal sacrifice is to make, the more respect and admiration it deserves.

BASICALLY the whole issue of brotherhood is involved. You and I prove our bigness of mind, heart and soul as we learn to appreciate and respect any person of the world who is different in any way from us, and the more so when we sense that he is striving toward an ideal which seems worthy to him.

As for differences in religion, let us remember that all great religions of the world are similar to some degree in their emphasis on upward striving as their adherents see it. This upward striving involves self-discipline and self-drive — possibilities for moral growth.

Out Of The Air

By RICHARD K. DOAN
CBS Locks It In

Richard Doan
of new nighttime programming, two hours of it being movies to compete with ABC's and NBC's successful feature film presentations.

CBS, taking a little more time than the other networks in getting even a tentative fix on its evening program schedule for next fall, finally is close to locking in most of its lineup.

The present prospect is that the network will bring on about 10½ hours a week of new nighttime programming, two hours of it being movies to compete with ABC's and NBC's successful feature film presentations.

FIVE NEW hour-long weekly series are penciled in, along with six half-hours, four of them situation comedies. One of the others is a spinoff from "Rawhide," tentatively called "Son of Rawhide." Besides these entries, "My Three Sons" will be imported from ABC.

There probably are not as many surprises in the lineup as some industryites had expected. Contrary to some rumors, an hour-long weekly "CBS Reports" is back in at 10 p.m. Mondays.

"Perry Mason" still is booked to go against NBC's giant killer, "Bonanza," Sunday nights. Conspicuously missing is "The Defenders," although this long-running, award-winning courtroom drama still can't be totally counted out.

ALSO MISSING is the new twice-a-week evening soap opera, derived from the top-rated daytime "As the World Turns," scheduled to start in May, but reliable sources say if this programming experiment is successful, CBS obviously will find a place for it in the fall lineup, even if it means displacing a couple of scheduled half-hour series.

Some other current shows not at this moment destined to return in the fall: "Doctors and Nurses," "Slattery's People," "Password," "The Cara Williams Show."

The schedule, subject to momentary change:

SUNDAY — 7:30 "My Favorite Martian," 8 Ed Sullivan, 9 "Perry Mason," 10 "Candid Camera," 10:30 "What's My Line?"

MONDAY — 7:30 "To Tell the Truth," 8 "I've Got a Secret," 8:30 "The Lucy Show," 9 Andy Griffith, 9:30 "Selena Mead," starring Polly Bergen as a girl spy, 10 "CBS Reports."

TUESDAY — 7:30 "Lost in Space," an interplanetary adventure story starring Guy Williams, once TV's "Zorro," and June Lockhart; 8:30 Red Skelton, 9:30 "Petitot Junction," 10 possibly "Haunted," a thriller drama starring Martin Landau.

WEDNESDAY — 7:30 "Mr. Ed," 8 "Clarence, the Cross-Eyed Lion," produced by Ivan

Tors, about a family living in Africa with such a pet, 8:30 "Beverly Hillsbillies," 9 "Country Cousins," a switch on "Hillbillies" with city slickers in the backwoods; 9:30 Dick Van Dyke, 10 Danny Kaye.

THURSDAY — 7:30 "The Munsters," 8 "Gilligan's Island," 8:30 "My Three Sons," 9 to 11 movies.

FRIDAY — 7:30 "The Wild Wild West," an hour drama described as James Bond in the Wild West of the 1890s, with Bob Conrad and Ross Martin; 8:30 "Hogan's Heroes," a comedy set in a World War II prisoner of war camp, with Bob Crane who has been featured on ABC's Donna Reed Show; 9 "Gomer Pyle," 9:30 "The Smothers Brothers," a situation comedy starring the two night club entertainers; 10 "Coronet Blue," a serious drama about a 19-year-old youth searching for life's meanings in the atomic age.

SATURDAY — 7:30 Jackie Gleason, 8:30 "O'Brien," an hour drama starring Peter Falk as "an anti-hero lawyer"; 9:30 "Son of Rawhide," 10 "Gunsmoke."

If this lineup holds, the list of hopeful candidates that didn't make it will include "Happily Ever After," with Shirley Jones; "Mr. Fluegelhorn," a new Nat Hiken entry; "You're Only Young Twice," with Ed Wynn, and "The Lawyer," with Will Hutchins.

Leo The Pet Lion On Winning Side In Pleas Court

NORRISTOWN, Pa. (AP) — Leo the pet lion, center of a controversy between his owner, Howard Sautter of nearby Willow Grove, and the Abington Township Board of Commissioners, was on the winning side in court Wednesday.

Common Pleas Court Judge Robert Honeyman dismissed a complaint which sought to force Sautter, 54, to give up his pet.

The township, acting under an ordinance passed last December outlawing all wild animals, contended that Leo was a potential danger.

Honeyman called the township's complaint insufficient. He said there "must be allegation of nuisance — including, but not limited, to hazardous or dangerous activities to support the prayer for relief."

He gave the township 20 days to amend its complaint.

Firm Offers Loans To Pay Income Tax

HAMILTON, Ohio (AP) — A loan company here has set up business where it may be needed most — in the same building and a few doors from the office of the Internal Revenue Service.

Sunrise Hills Group Would Join Midland

A delegation of about 10 residents of the Sunrise Hills Addition appeared before the Industry Borough Council Wednesday night with a petition asking annexation of the section into the Borough of Midland.

The delegation, headed by Mrs. Ruby Ingraham, said they desire annexation so they can receive a public water supply, improved streets and better protection services.

The petition was taken under consideration by councilmen, who will schedule a special meeting to discuss the matter.

Patrick O'Hara, building inspector, presented his report for 1964, which showed construction in the borough for the year amounting to $219,021.

The report showed 12 new houses, five additions, three garages and one porch.

Ross Strohm, roads chairman, said grading and slugging has been started on borough roads.

Mayor W. B. MacBride gave the police report for February which showed 15 complaints, six accidents and 1,072 miles rolled up on the police car.

Bills totaling $2,315.03 were ordered paid. Homer Paul, president, presided. The next meeting will be held April 7.

Weed Control Leaflet Issued

LISBON — "Herbicides to Control Weeds In Field Crops 1965" is the title of a new leaflet published by the Co-operative Extension Service. It was compiled by Dr. E. W. Stroube, extension agronomist, and contains herbicide recommendations for various crops or weeds, according to Donald K. Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Fourteen crops and weeds are listed, including Canada thistle, carrail, corn at four different stages of development, forage legumes, Johnson grass at two stages of development, oats and wheat with and without legumes, pasture, quackgrass, soybeans and sugar beets, pre-emergence and post-emergence treatment, tobacco beds and wild garlic. There also are four treatments for woody plants.

For each crop or weed variety, the leaflet lists the recommended herbicide or herbicides to use, the amount of material required in pounds per acre, and the amount of water needed in gallons per acre, plus comments on number of applications, time, where and how to apply, and what conditions produce best results.

An introductory statement reminds that new food and drug laws require that food and feed products contain no herbicide residue on an amount within the safe tolerance as established by the Federal Food and Drug Administration. It also emphasizes that herbicide application equipment should be carefully calibrated and checked periodically for rate of application, since accurate herbicide application helps insure better weed control, less crop injury, and fewer soil residue problems.

The publication is available through the Co-operative Extension Service office, 113 S. Market St., Myers said.

The next meeting will be held March 16.

Armed Services Losing Men Despite Pay Hikes

WASHINGTON (AP) — Despite two military pay raises in as many years, the armed services are losing trained officers and enlisted men at a serious pace.

An Associated Press survey showed today that the services regard still inadequate pay, poor housing, prolonged separation from families and eroded fringe benefits as major factors.

The inability to hold onto trained men complicates an already difficult military manpower problem. Recruiting has been dropping because of speculation that the draft may be eliminated — something which is now considered unlikely.

The Army reported that more than three out of four junior reserve officers are leaving service after completing their obligated duty. It said about the same 75 per cent of first-term

Man, 23, Held To Court For Stickup Count

Carl Lee Hawk Jr., 23, of 1615 Riverside Ave., Wellsville, already facing charges in connection with an East Liverpool service station burglary, was bound over to the Grand Jury Wednesday afternoon by County Judge James L. MacDonald at Lisbon on the $90 armed robbery of a Wellsville market Feb. 17.

Accused of the stickup of Robert and Lige Freeman in Betty's Grocery at 906 Wood St., Hawk entered a not guilty plea and presented alibi witnesses who testified he was at the home at the time of the alleged stickup. However, the court held him to the Grand Jury under $2,500 bond.

Hawk remains confined to County Jail at Lisbon in lieu of bond. He also is being held for alleged parole violation.

The armed robbery charge was filed by Chief John Hephner of Wellsville after Hawk allegedly was identified by the Freeman brothers.

Hawk and William K. Hunt, 121 Market St., were bound over to the Grand Jury on Feb. 24 by Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on charges of breaking and entering Cooper's A Moco Service Station on E. 3rd St.

East Liverpool police charged that the two were found inside the station Feb. 19 by officers responding to an alert from a woman who resides nearby.

Police charged that Hunt was found hiding in an empty oil drum, holding a German P-38 pistol. He was named in a second count of carrying a concealed weapon. In holding the two to the Grand Jury, Judge Chertoff set bond at $2,500 in each case.

Residential Drive Midland Area Scholarship Solicitation Set March 14

The residential solicitation for the Midland and Western Beaver Dollars for Scholars fund-raising campaign will be held the week of March 14, it has been announced.

Midland's three Parent-Teacher Associations and the Midland Junior Women's Club have been invited to help organize the Midland residential solicitation.

The clubs and organization phase of the campaign will be held this month and during April. Lester Trainer, a trustee for the Midland Dollars for Scholars, will be in charge of Midland business solicitation.

Wilbert Basinger will be clubs and organization chairman for the Midland drive. In conjunction with the Midland door-to-door solicitation, Mayor Eli G. Corak has approved a Tag Day, half a day each, March 15 and 16.

In Western Beaver, Mrs. M. D. Renwick and James C. Britton, trustees, are heading drive plans there. In the Ohioville area of Western Beaver, the Fairview Grange is participating with Mrs. F. Paul Dawson, community service chairman, in charge.

In Midland last year, the campaign netted only a little over $400 while the Western Beaver Area collected over $600.

With additional undesignated funds from business and industry, the Midland area was able to award five scholarships last year. Recipients were Philip J. Dawson, Dennis Link, John A. Lona, Mary Anne Muslovski and Janis L. Andrews, of whom all or most received $500 scholarships.

In Western Beaver, three received scholarships. Western Beaver, the only area to raise more funds than eligible applicants, will have credit to apply to this year's drive.

In the residential solicitation, each adult will be asked to give $1 which will also make the donor a member of the Citizens' Scholarship Foundation of the East Liverpool Area and eligible to attend its annual meeting and vote on officers.

Other districts in the foundation are South Side, East Liverpool, Beaver Local, Wellsville and Oak Glen.

The Dollars for Scholars has grown in the area. In 1963, the first year for the scholarships, $10,000 was raised and about 20 scholarships given; last year when the three Pennsylvania districts joined, nearly $20,000 was raised and about 45 scholarships given.

The over-all goal last year was $25,000 and this year it is $35,000.

Applications for the scholarships will be available in late March or early April at high schools of the participating districts for senior students and those already in college who may apply.

Scholarships range up to $500 and are awarded on need, scholarship, leadership and past employment. The number of scholarships given depends mainly on the amount of funds raised.

Motorist Misses Skunk, Wrecks Car Near Negley

A 23-year-old Negley driver swerved to avoid hitting a skunk on Route 154 early this morning, wrecked his auto about a mile east of Negley and was arrested on a registration violation.

The Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon said Henry Kelly, 23, of Negley R.D. 1 was headed east about 3:30 a. m. when he spotted the skunk on the highway and swerved.

Officers said he lost control and the 1957 veered off the right side and rolled over, causing about $500 damage.

Kelly was unhurt — as was the skunk — but was charged with fictitious registration, the patrol said.

Driver Leaves Scene After Smith St. Crash

An unidentified motorist drove away without awaiting arrival of police after a collision Wednesday at 9:19 p. m. on Smith St. at Dresden Ave. that damaged a Pleasant Heights man's car, police reported.

The auto backed off the parking lot of a dry cleaner's outlet and hit a 1957 sedan owned by Harvey Dale Craven, 1861 Idaho Ave., which was halted for a red blinker signal at the intersection, police were told.

The impact smashed in the right front door of Craven's car. When the driver went to call police, the other motorist left the scene, police said.

Junk K Policies To Restore Unity, Peking Tells Moscow

TOKYO (AP) — Peking told Moscow today to junk all of Nikita Khrushchev's policies if it wants to restore unity to the Communist world.

“N. S. Khrushchev has vanished from the political arena, but Khrushchevism is not dead and buried,” said the official Peking People's Daily. “A glance at the propaganda in the Soviet press these days makes this abundantly clear.”

The Moscow-Peking dispute “will never end as long as there are still those who believe in Khrushchev revisionism, who follow it and disseminate it, until the day when it is swept clean away,” said the paper.

“Khrushchev was the founder of Khrushchev revisionism,” the Chinese party organ said. “When this revisionist line took shape he had dug his own grave. One must ask, if the whole business of Khrushchev revisionism is to be continued, then why oust Khrushchev? Could the continuers really be more able than the founder? Can those who follow in his footsteps reach their destination along the same road that led him up against a stone wall? Can those who believe in Khrushchev revisionism escape the sad end of Khrushchev himself unless they change their ways?”

In Moscow, sources said the conference of 19 Communist parties — originally expected to end Tuesday — may be prolonged until Friday or Saturday by a dispute over what to say

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband is the type who must have the last word—no matter what it costs him. Well it now is costing him 15 days in jail.

It all started with a speeding ticket. My husband said he was not speeding—that the policeman was laying for him. He refused to pay the ticket and went to court to plead not guilty. When the judge reminded my husband that he had been nabbed for speeding twice in the past two years he got mad and called the judge a name. The judge gave him 15 days. So now what am I to tell our 6-year-old son? How will he feel if he knows his father is in jail? Will it scar him for life? I need answers and I need them now.—UNDONE.

Dear Un: Do yourself up and tell your son the truth. Explain that people who drive cars must follow the rules or pay the penalty—which in this case was a jail sentence.

Make it clear that Daddy did not rob a bank or kill anyone but that he did break a law — and laws must be obeyed if we are to have a world safe for everybody.

Shock Value

Dear Ann: Our son, who soon will be 6, plays with some little boys in the neighborhood who are older than he is.

Some of the words he has picked up are not very nice. In fact, they are filthy. We are quite ashamed when he says these words in the presence of guests. Naturally it's very embarrassing to the guests, as well as to us.

It's difficult to conceal shock when he comes up with gutter words—in the presence of the minister, for instance. My husband and I don't know how to deal with the problem and we are enlisting your help.—PARENTS OF LITTLE BOY BLUE.

Dear Parents: Your son will continue to use gutter words as long as they have shock value.

When children use dirty words — whether guests are present or not—parents should register no shock or horror. Simply say, "We don't talk like that in our family," and change the subject. If the child persists, he should be sent to his room.

By the time they are 12 most kids have heard all the words, or read them on bathroom walls and nobody ever died from words.

Office Do-Gooder

Dear Ann: I'm a faithful reader of your column and I'm pleased that you have the courage to tackle certain problems which most people would be inclined to duck. I refer especially to the careless female who ignores the basics of hygiene, such as soap and water, toothpaste, comb and deodorants.

Your suggestion that the most gentle and understanding woman in the office speak to her is unrealistic, however. In our own office, the most gentle and understanding woman told me, "I'd rather die." So I accepted the responsibility because I felt a young girl had to be told.

The poor thing heard me out, then broke down and wept. She finally sobbed, "But nobody ever told me."

For three days she avoided me but I noticed that her appearance improved 100 per cent. Others noticed it, too, but I never let on that we had had a chat.

Several days later I received two dozen roses. The card read, "Thank you—more than words can express." It was unsigned but I know who had sent the bouquet.—SACRIFICIAL LAMB.

Dear Lamb: A low bow for doing what needed to be done, although it was a difficult and unpleasant chore.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Community Action Conference Slated

"Better Communities for a Better West Virginia" is the theme of a Community Action Leaders Conference to be held Tuesday at Jacksons Mill.

Representatives of some 40 rural and suburban communities are expected to attend the meeting co-sponsored by the Cooperative Extension Service of West Virginia University's Appalachian Center and by the Monongahela Power Co. and Appalachian Power Co. The utilities co-sponsor the program in their service areas.

This will be the spring conference of leaders from the communities that are enrolled in the Community Action Program. Heretofore regional meetings had been held in Clarksburg, Parkersburg and Beckley. This one meeting in Jacksons Mill, Community Action Program leaders said, combines all areas and is open to any community in West Virginia that is interested in enrolling in the Community Action Program.

ELHS Shoots For Berth In Final Round

Coch Frank Chan sends his East Liverpool Pot- ters after a spot in the Sectional finals tonight when the Potters oppose Winterville at 8:30 in the semi- final round.

By the time the Potters take the floor tonight the other finalists will be known since Steubenville Big Red meets top seeded Toronto in the opening game at 7.

The championship tilt will be played Saturday at 8 p. m.

East Liverpool rolled into the semi-finals by getting past Wellsville 62-50 but Winterville had a tougher struggle in elim- inating Steubenville Central, 58- 55 in overtime.

WINTERSVILLE, coached by former West Virginia star Lee Patrone, recorded a 7-5 record this season against Class AA competition.

Chan will stick with the same lineup used Tuesday night with Joe Massey assured of a start-

WOHI To Broadcast Semi-Final Contest

WOHI will broadcast the sectional semi - finals contest tonight, from Steubenville, be- tween the East Liverpool Pot- ters and Winterville. Warm- up will be at 8:15, with game- time set for 8:30.

Ing berth now after his fine showing against Wellsville when he scored 16 points.

Chan reported that Frank Taylor was not in school Wed- nesday because of a touch of flu but is expected to be in the starting lineup tonight.

TORONTO will be making its first tournament start after sitting out the opening round with a bye. Paced by their bril- liant sophomore Dick Symons, the Red Knights entered the tourney with the most impres- sive record of 9-4 against Class AA foes.

Big Red rates a slight ad- vantage over Toronto in to- night's battle mainly because of the scoring prowess of Harry Reynolds a sharpshooting for- ward who poured in 33 points against Jefferson Union Tues- day.

The winner of the Sectional tournament will advance to the District which is also scheduled for Steubenville March 12 and 13.

Aide Named Head Coach At Indiana

BLOOMINGTON, Ind. (AP) — Lou Watson, who has been part of Indiana University bas- ketball 16 of the last 19 years, will take on the rugged assign- ment of succeeding head coach Branch McCracken and rebuild- ing the Hoosiers.

Watson knew exactly what he faced when he accepted the job Wednesday, effective at the end of the current season. He has been McCracken's assistant since 1958.

"I'll lose the seven top boys from this year, and it's going to be rough," Watson said. "And recruiting is getting tougher all the time."

He'll have help from his boss, who is retiring after 24 years on the job but will stay at the uni- versity as a professor of physi- cal education.

Watson signed a three-year contract and announced that Don Luft will move up from freshman coach to be his assist- ant.

Oak Glen Tops Weirton To Gain Finals

Balanced Play Offsets Foley's 34

By BOB DUFFY

Review Sports Editor

Oak Glen bought its ticket to the Section 2 championship game by declaring its third victory of the season over Weir- ton, 65-58, Wednesday night on the Oak Glen floor.

Tonight at Oak Glen, Wells- burg, installed as the pre-tour- ney favorite, takes on Follans- bee at 8 p. m. as Coach Bob Starkey's Bears mark time un- til Staturday when they will meet the winner of tonight's contest.

THE WINNER of Section 2 advances to Region play set next week at Moundsville.

Oak Glen's victory last night came despite a brilliant 34 point effort by Weirton's pint sized backcourt star Dan Foley who was scoring from every angle. Only the balanced attack by Oak Glen overcame Foley's fine shooting.

Four Oak Glen starters hit the double figures in sharing credit for the first tournament win by an Oak Glen team.

DAN CLARK, who registered 14 points in the first half on several fast breaks, wound up with 16 markers. Tom Thayer, the team's top scorer and Den- nis Carnes tallied 14 apiece and steady John Brand hit the cords for 13.

The Golden Bears led most of the way and owned a 16-13 first quarter lead. Sparked by Clark's nine points in the sec- ond stanza, Oak Glen moved ahead 37-26 at halftime.

CARNES, with six points, kept the Bears in front in the third quarter as Foley led a one- man charge hitting for 12 points in that period which cut Oak Glen's lead to 49-42 when the period ended.

Weirton didn't get any closer than seven points throughout the final eight minutes.

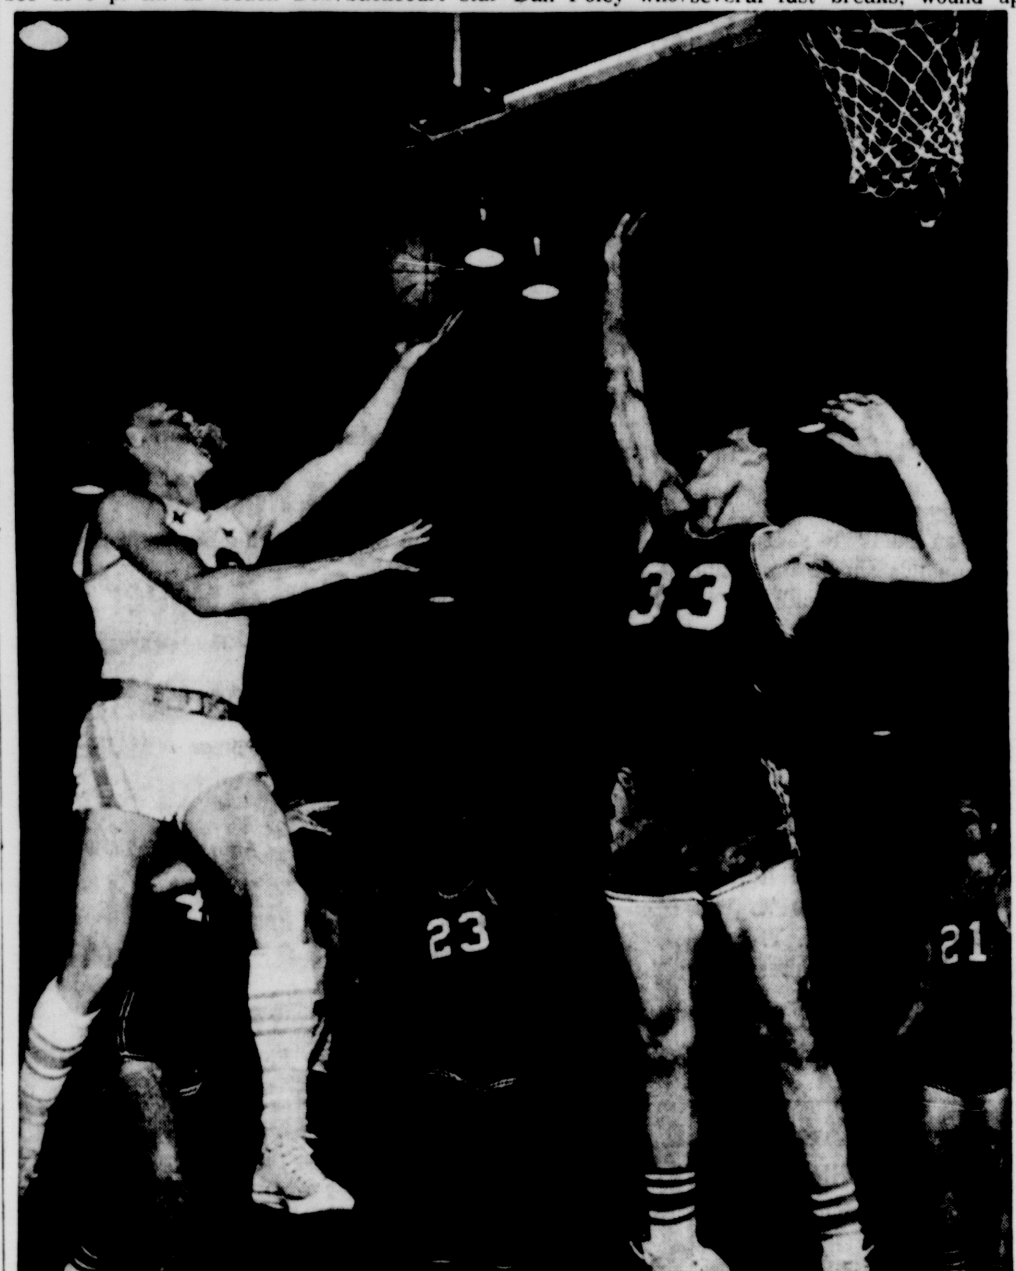

As a team, Oak Glen shot a sound 45 per cent with 26 of 58 while Weirton's average was 32 per cent on 24 of 76.

OAK GLEN didn't own any great edge off the boards out- rebounding Weirton 47 to 39 but Carnes led in this department by grabbing 14 rebounds.

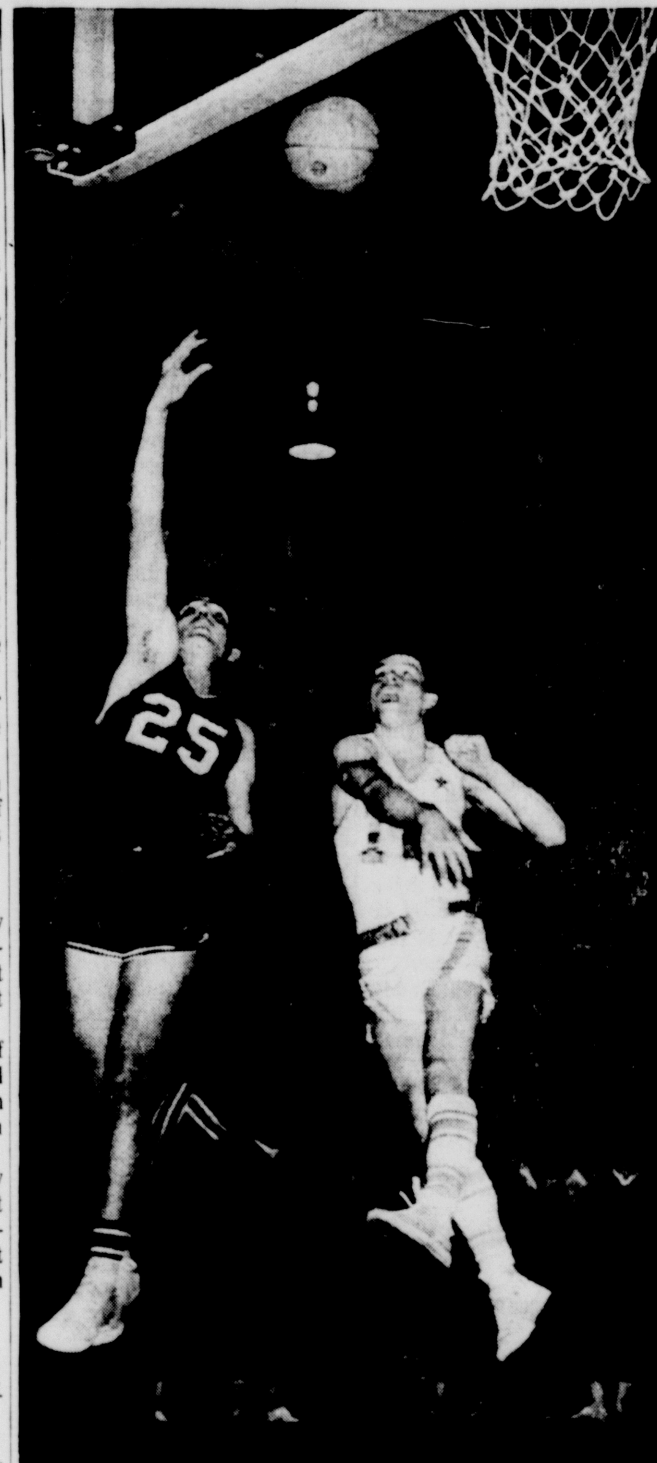

Foley, in scoring over half of Weirton's points, hit on 16 field goals and has two-for-two from the foul line. He tallied 14 in the first half.

Thayer, who was bothered by foul trouble and had to sit out most of the third quarter fi- nally fouled out of the contest with one minute remaining in the contest.

DRIVING FOR the basket is Oak Glen's Tom Thayer who runs into opposition from Bob Leach (33) of Weirton during action in the first half of the Oak Glen-Weirton tournament contest. Oak Glen eliminated the Riders, 65-58.

OAK GLEN'S Dan Clark (white uniform) arrives a little too late as Weirton's Mitch Zack (25) is shown scoring in Wednesday night's Section 1 game at Oak Glen.

Dartmouth In Spotlight After Ending Long Streak

By TED MEIER

Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Joseph's Hawks won their 15th straight, the Connecti- cut Huskies won their 14th straight and the Princeton Tig- ers won their 10th in a row.

Cunningham Nets 20 To Spark Cincy Win

Guard Ken Cunningham of East Liverpool poured in 20 points to spark Cincinnati's 102-72 victory over Xavier Wednesday night. Cunningham took scoring honors for the Bearcats in last night's con- test.

Nevertheless, the Hawks, the Huskies and the Tigers yielded the college basketball spotlight today to the down-trodden Dart- mouth Indians.

Beaten in 33 straight Ivy

League games, the longest los- ing streak in the history of the league, the Indians smote Brown 84-70 on their home court at Hanover, N.H.

It was Dartmouth's first Ivy victory since Feb. 8, 1963 when the Indians beat Columbia 58-57. The Indians came from 11 points back to score their mem- orable victory. Chris Kinum, a 6-foot-4 junior from East Or- ange, N.J. playing in his first game of the season, provided the spark. He scored only 11 points, but his floor play, re- bounding and defensive work was a big factor.

Once beaten St. Joseph's, third-ranked nationally in The Associated Press poll, upped its record to 25-1 by whipping St. Bonaventure 95-87 at Philadel- phia behind Cliff Anderson's 27 points and Tom Duff's 25.

Unranked Connecticut, which meets St. Joseph's in the first round of the NCAA tournament Monday, made its record 22-2 by defeating Penn 81-71 in All- America Bill Bradley's final game on the Tigers' Dillon Gym court. The two-time All-America and Player of the Year scored 19 points and was given a three- minute standing ovation when he was taken out in the last minute.

Ninth-ranked Villanova, the only other team in The AP Top Ten to play Wednesday night, trampled Seton Hall 84-63 at South Orange, N.J. Bill Mel- chionni, with 22, and Jim Wash- ington with 16 combined for 38 points as the Wildcats, NIT- bound, boosted their record to 20-4.

Louisville thwarted Wichita's bid to nail down the Missouri Valley Conference cham- pionship by scoring a 79-70 home court victory over the Wheat- shockers. John Reuther's 29 points and Eddie Creamer's 20 paced the Cardinals.

Ed Jucker, who resigned as Cincinnati coach last week, closed out his career as Bearcat mentor on a victorious note. The Bearcats whipped their city rival, Xavier, 102-72, then carried Jucker off the court.

It was because of Clay's agree- ment to a rematch with Liston that the WBA stripped Cassius of his title in the 48 states under its jurisdiction. New York and Massachusetts, plus the British Boxing Board, still regard Clay as reigning heavyweight champ.

Meanwhile, Terrell, 6-foot-6 Chicagoan rated No. 1 contend- er by the WBA, and third- ranked Machen, father of four from Redding, Calif., took it easy the day before their tangle for the WBA crown.

Machen, 32-year-old veteran of 10 pro seasons, is guaranteed $20,000 or 30 per cent of the receipts. His record is 47-5-2.

"We could get closed-circuit television coverage equal to any available elsewhere and it would be better holding the fight indoors for TV purposes," said Schoenwald.

Ben Bentley, veteran fight publicist handling the Terrell- Machen bout, said Herbert Mu- hammad, son of Black Muslim head, Elijah Muhammad, and John Ali, secretary of the Negro er for 10 years and Marlene Dayman for three years, all on charges of misbehavior at the Tokyo Games.

Turner said the severity of the sentences was the key factor in his club's move to have the ex- pulsions reviewed.

"We do not argue the fact that the girls should have been penal- ized but the penalties appear very stiff," said Turner.

The girls were expelled after a weekend meeting in Hobart but no reasons were announced for the expulsions.

ASU President Dr. Donald Dowling, questioned by report- ers, agreed that the four girls' marching in the Games' open- ing ceremony against instruc- tions was one of the reasons.

Miss Fraser has admitted she did not wear the official swim- suit in the races. The official one was too tight, she said.

Native Charger Closes Hialeah With Victory

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — South Florida's horse racing moved to Gulfstream Park today for a 43- day meeting, leaving a stack of broken records at Hialeah.

The closing day crowd of 33, 005 was the biggest for any weekday at a Florida track. Betting also set a record for any day other than a Saturday at $2, 718,066.

Total pari-mutuel play at Hi- aleah, fattened by 21 10-race programs and the twin double, was $75,770,975, up 7.7 per cent over the 1964 season and the biggest the track ever had. At- tendance was up 2.9 per cent, to a total of 794,302.

Warner Stable's Native Charger, son of the great Native Dancer, scored a one-half length victory in the $143,600 Flamingo Stakes — first major test for 3-year-old colts in Florida.

Harbor View Farm's Spark- ling Johnny was second, Mrs. Ben Cohen's Hail To All, third, and T.E. Hays' and D.B. Wel- don's Flyalong a surprising fourth in the field of 12.

Native Charger, never worse than third, ran the nine furlongs in 1:50 on a fast track. His time was identical with that of Louis Arnold, another Derby-age colt who won the seventh race over Republican Way, Leonie, Allegro Jeff, Bama Day and seven other 3-year-olds.

Native Charger earned $93,340 for his owner, Maj. Albert War- ner, who accepted the Flamingo Trophy from Gov. Haydon Burns of Florida.

Her own book, however, may have indicted Miss Fraser.

In a book entitled "Gold Med- al Girl," published by the Land- sdowne Press, the mar- ried, 27-year-old Olympic queen told of one incident in Tokyo when she and some companions were involved in a flag souve- nir-hunting expedition at the Im- perial Palace in Tokyo. The in- cident occurred the night before the closing ceremony of the Games.

Dawn tells in the book how she was chased by the police, fell and twisted an ankle as she tried to get away, and when she was about to swim the royal moat.

Dawn says in the book she was hit by batons and taken to Marunouchi police station at 4 a.m. She eventually was re- leased when her identity was established and she had signed a document apologizing to the police and the Japanese people.

Dawn says she got to bed at 6:45 a.m. that day — the day she carried the Australian flag in the closing ceremony.

Whether the palace incident had anything to do with Dawn's expulsion by the ASU has not been stated.

Is Your Fishing Equipment Ready?

By KEN MCCREARY

With March prancing into Ohio like a frisky lamb, and spring three weeks away (at least according to the calendar), most of the almost-a-million fishermen in Buckeye country are eagerly awaiting their first chance to wet a line.

In fact, some of the more impatient have already ventured to a favorite lake, stream or pond, with varying lack of success.

AGAIN THIS spring, many Ohio anglers will tackle the fishing without being ready—with out having their tackle and gear in first class condition. Now is the time to be sure you're not going to be caught with your tackle down.

Smooth-working gear not only makes angling more enjoyable, but more profitable. One lunker on the stringer is worth a dozen tales about "the one that got away."

Whether you cast or spin-cast your reel is perhaps the most important part of your fishing gear. Time taken to thoroughly clean and condition reels will pay off later; most reels come with lubricating instructions and it's wise to follow them exactly.

When you disassemble a reel, keep the parts positioned so you'll remember exactly how and where they fit. Clean and oil each component, removing any sand or foreign matter. As you reassemble the reel, each part should go into place easily—if you have to force it, something is wrong.

After conditioning the reel, check the line for any frayed or worn places which could lose that big one. If the line needs replacing, you can usually discard the first 50 yards or so, then use the rest for backing. Remember you'll get better, more accurate casts with a full reel.

NO MATTER how well you care for the reel and line, if your rod lets you down you're still in trouble. Check each guide for grooves cut by con- ruin a new line. Examine all stant casting; a bad guide can ferrules to be sure they're not worn or bent and check the rod seats for worn threads or a bad fit.

You can put the cork grip in "like-new" shape by scrubbing it with a good kitchen cleanser or with fine steel wool dipped in thinner. Finish the job by going over the grip with very fine sandpaper.

Tinkering with the tackle box may be the most enjoyable part of the winter work.

Check each and every lure carefully, being certain that the points on every hook are sharp. More good fish are lost because of dull hooks than all other reasons combined. Use a small, grooved hone or a file to sharpen hooks.

Next, check the finish on all your lures; don't be afraid to apply a little paint to your battered favorite. You may discover a real "killer" combination.

If the finish on spinners and spoons has become dull, a rub-down with fine steel wool will restore them to fish-catching condition.

If you're a fly fisherman, you can restore beat-up flies by holding them over a steaming teakettle. To waterproof dry flies, dip them in a commercial fly dope or a solution of one ounce of paraffin dissolved in a pint of carbon tetrachloride. Be careful when using carbon tet, though.

WHEN YOU put your tackle box back together, keep in mind that a little organization now will pay dividends later, when you don't have to waste fishing time looking for what you want. Try to arrange surface plugs in one section, medium runners in another, and deep diving plugs in another.

Be sure to check sinkers, bobbers, leaders and other component to make sure you have sizes and numbers you'll need. A small pair of wire cutting pliers, waterproof matches, a few band aids, and insect repellent are valuable "extras" in your tackle box.

Make it a "must" to check over your foul weather gear and your boots or waders. A patch in time can spare you some real discomfort later. When you get all of your tackle and gear cleaned and conditioned, you can relax and wait for that first fine weather (or until the urge to wet a line overcomes you), knowing the attention and time you spend now may spell the difference between frustration and a full stringer in the weeks to come.

You're The Skipper

Back Yard Is Low-Cost Boat Yard

By JOHN BOHANNAN

There's a dividing line between low-cost boating and the more expensive variety. It all depends on how easily your boat can be hauled on a trailer.

Three types of boats fit this budget boating picture—outboards, inboard-outboards and jet drives in power craft, and centerboard sailboats.

Three have a common advantage. Bottom appendages can be drawn up out of the way to allow them to rest easily on a trailer with no special provision. Standard keel rollers and adjustable roller chocks can be made to accommodate most of these hulls.

THE JET DRIVE inboard is a dream for this purpose because the water exhaust is above the waterline and the drive is self-contained. Drive units of the I-O boats, and outboard motors, can be swung up clear of the bottoms. Center-boards can be pulled up into the trunks of the sailboats.

All three types are of shoal draft. This eases the problem of launching and hauling because it isn't necessary to do much more than duck them before they will float free.

Size is another consideration. To be truly an easy-haul boat, she should be less than 20 feet in length. Above that, her weight and size will make her cumbersome to handle and tow on the road.

By keeping your boat in the trailer bracket, you can cut operation costs to a minimum. The big reason is because you can use your backyard as a combination marina and boat yard. You'll save money every month in the year.

For example, it's not uncommon for the owner of a 20-footer to pay $250 or more per year for dockage, off-season storage, launching and hauling, plus other charges, depending on how much work is performed on the boat at the yard.

The trailer boat owner can save all of this by keeping his boat in his back yard and doing his own launching and hauling from the trailer.

BY HAVING the boat at home, it's handy for do-it-yourself upkeep. The owner can do all of the sanding, painting and—if he's handy with tools—the hull repairs.

The trailer boat has another top advantage. The owner is not limited to one body of water. He can take the boat wherever he wishes to enjoy the thrill of exploring new waterways, even hundreds of miles from home.

Variety adds spice to his boating. Every weekend and vacation can be different. There's no need to follow the same channels, see the same persons, go through the same routine every time he's afloat.

The trailer boat, safe in the back yard, doesn't present the same worries as the permanently-moored craft subject to damage by storms, floods, unusually high tides and the vagaries of lubberly skippers in adjacent slips.

Without doubt, the trailer boat gives the most fun for the money, is easier to buy and easier to own.

Questions And Answers

Q—How can a deep-keel sailboat be transported by trailer?

A—By rigging a cradle on a low-bed trailer, with provision for the entire weight of the keel to be borne by the trailer. The cradle should be of husky oak, bolted together like a shipping cradle. Bow and stern overhangs should be supported.

Q—Is there a size limit for boats to be transported on highways?

A—A common limitation is eight feet in overall width. Check with your state highway department. Usually, oversize loads can be transported by special permission.

Final Associated Press Poll

Williamson Finishes First In West Virginia Ratings

By STRAT DOUTHAT

Associated Press Sports Writer Williamson's Wolfpack, sporting the school's first undefeated record, has finished atop the Associated Press 1964-65 high school basketball poll in West Virginia.

Coach George Ritchie's team received five first-place votes and a total 84 points in the final survey of sports writers and sportscasters.

Williamson won the Class-AA championship last season and then moved into the big school category at the start of the school year. The move made little difference to the Wolfpack as it ripped off 20 consecutive victories.

Oceana was runnerup. The Indians also posted a 20-0 record and missed a tie for first-place by just three points.

Stonewall Jackson finished the campaign in third place with an 18-2 record. Dunbar followed the Generals, advancing one rung from last week despite losing to Charleston.

Defending Class-AAA champion Logan, ranked fourth last week, slipped to fifth in the final voting.

Charleston made the week's biggest advance, moving up to sixth from eighth. Triadelphia was seventh, dropping one notch from last week.

Fairmont West took over eighth in the final standings after being rated ninth last week. Montgomery, a relative newcomer to the top 10, climbed one rung to No. 9.

The final spot went to Wheeling's Wildcats, who led the parade during the first half of the season. Wheeling fell apart during the latter stages of the season, however, losing three of its last four games.

The top 10, including team records and point totals:

1. Williamson 20-0 84
2. Oceana 20-0 81
3. Stonewall Jackson 18-2 66
4. Dunbar 17-3 56
5. Logan 17-3 53
6. Charleston 16-4 36
7. Triadelphia 19-1 34
8. Fairmont West 17-3 24
9. Montgomery 17-3 20
10. Wheeling 15-5 19

Other teams receiving votes: Athens, Beckley, Beckley Stratton, Bluefield, Ceredo, Kenova, Elkins, Fairmont St. Peter, Gary District, Herndon, Matewan, Nitro, Ripley, Weirton Madonna and Welch.

People In News

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rt. Rev. Horace W.B. Donegan, Protestant Episcopal bishop of New York, has proposed a shortening of the 40-day Lenten season to the two weeks preceding Easter—or perhaps to Holy Week alone.

In an Ash Wednesday sermon, he said the "quiet pace of a 17th century Lent is impossible for people living in 20th century New York."

"The lengthy services with their glorious lessons have become unrealistic for men and women catching commuter trains," Bishop Donegan said.

Lerner testified at the start of a separation suit brought by his Corsican-born wife, the former Micheline Muzzelli Pozzo di Borgo. He has filed a countersuit. She is receiving temporary alimony of $1,500 a week.

Ex-Tennis Star Is Arrested On Robbery Charge

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Tom Falkenburg, once a nationally known tennis player, has been arrested on a charge that he robbed a small Mississippi bank.

He is the brother of Jim Falkenburg, New York television personality, and Bob Falkenburg, also a noted tennis player.

FBI agents met the tanned, 6-foot-4 socialite as he walked off the ninth green at Shady Oaks County Club Wednesday where he was practicing for a tournament that begins today.

Falkenburg, 41, is accused of being the gunman who, wearing a woolen ski mask, took $4,048 from a woman teller at the Bank of Ridgeland, 10 miles north of Jackson, Feb. 25.

The arrest was made on the basis of a green, 1960 model car used in the robbery, said Roy K. Moore, special agent in charge of the Jackson FBI office.

Sheriff Jack Cauthen of Madison County said state charges also would be filed against Falkenburg, a native of Spain. Falkenburg was charged with violating federal bank robbery statutes. He waived a preliminary hearing and remained in jail in lieu of a $5,000 bond.

Falkenburg moved to Mississippi from Los Angeles in 1949 after marrying Bernice Allred of Hazlehurst, member of a prominent Mississippi family.

Evansville Wins Small School Title

By The Associated Press
Evansville's undefeated Aces, defending NCAA college-division basketball champions and No. 1 in The Associated Press small-college poll for the second straight season, are looking forward to a third meeting with Southern Illinois.

Evansville's closest brushes with disaster this season came in two one-point victories over Southern Illinois, which placed third in the final AP poll.

The Aces and the Salukis, starting the NCAA tournament trial in regionals this week, can meet again in Evansville for the small-college championship. To make it, each will have to defeat four opponents in tourney games.

Evansville Coach Arad McCutchan said, "From the standpoint of winning you'd possibly like to play somebody else, but Southern Illinois is a great team and they deserve another shot at us. We wouldn't like to see them rubbed out by some other team."

McCutchan said he and his players have been feeling no special pressure from being unbeaten and favored.

"We try to take a casual attitude toward it," he said. "It may be this is the time it may start. We realize it's one defeat and out."

To avoid staleness, McCutchan is keeping workouts hard but short—no more than 90 minutes for his starters.

Evansville won't get a tournament shot at Central State of Ohio, No. 2 in the small college poll and the only undefeated team in the Top Ten. Central State is not in the NCAA tourney.

The final Top Ten, with won-loss records through Saturday, Feb. 27, and point totals:

1. Evansville 24-0 175
2. Central St., Ohio 23-0 145
3. Southern Ill. 16-5 94
4. High Point 26-3 83
5. Fairmont 27-2 76
6. North Dakota 22-4 70
7. Gannon 20-3 40
8. Grambling 20-5 39
9. Augsburg 22-3 33
10. Phila. Textile 21-3 22

Ohio Barber Loses

Another Legal Round

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Yellow Springs barber Lewis E. Geger has lost another round in his legal battle against Ohio's public accommodations laws.

The Ohio Supreme Court Wednesday dismissed as moot—without issue—Geger's appeal challenging the accommodations laws as applied to his trade.

The high court, in a 7-0 decision, did not go into the merits of the case because it said the barber has gone out of business since the litigation originated.

The 55-year-old Geger operated his shop for 31 years before selling it last March. The shop was the target of numerous civil rights demonstrations after he refused in 1961 to cut the hair of Paul N. Graham, a Negro chemist.

Man Lost Bet On Barry So He's Leaving U.S.

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Last November Robert Ansett told his boss that he had such faith in Republican Barry Goldwater's chance for the presidency that he'd leave the country if he lost.

Early this morning Ansett, his wife, their three children and another couple and their three children sailed aboard the SS Iberia for Australia and a new home.

"My bet just brought the situation to a head faster than it would have been," said Ansett.

"We'd have left sooner or later anyway, with things here the way they are."

Peter Kemmsies, 30, Ansett's neighbor in San Diego and now traveling companion, said they had been thinking about leaving for several months.

"This country has treated us well," said Kemmsies, a construction firm owner. "But we can't live in the past. I have a responsibility to my wife and my kids to make sure that they'll have an opportunity to think for themselves."

"The way the United States is going, government even regulates your personal insurance. There's just no initiative left."

Ansett, a bakery route salesman, said "Australia presently is more socialistic than the United States but the trend there is toward conservatism. It's just the opposite here," he said.

Specifically, Ansett said he objected to the tax structure. Social Security, government controls on commerce and "taking the initiative from the individual."

"There just isn't the opportunity now that there was when the country was young," he said.

Kemmsies agreed, adding,

"I came home," said Kemmsies, "and said 'Baby, let's go to Australia.' She said, 'O.K.'"

Ansett said it took five minutes to convince his wife that the move was a good idea.

Each couple has three children, two boys and a girl. The oldest of the six children is 7, the youngest, 2.

"They're all looking forward to the trip," said Mrs. Kemmsies.

Both families sold their homes, cars and furniture to buy their tickets. Both confided that there would be little money left for luxuries.

"There are a lot of jobs available in Australia," Ansett said. "We'll just have to take whatever comes along at first and plan from there."

Long Illness Fatal

Koufax Content After First Test

Associated Press Sports Writer

Sandy Koufax hurts all over and Los Angeles Dodger brass couldn't be happier about it.

Koufax reported the usual case of winter hibernation aches and pains following his first workout of the spring Wednesday. Then why the smiles around the Dodgers' Vero Beach, Fla., camp?

Well, Koufax' left arm—the one that wins all those ball games and has earned Sandy three straight National League earned run titles—came through its first test in fine fashion.

Koufax missed the last six weeks of the 1964 season with an inflammation of his left elbow, suffered in a slide at Milwaukee. The 29-year-old Dodger southpaw gave his arm its first test Wednesday and was quite content with the results.

"I ache all over," Koufax said after hurling 15 minutes of batting practice. "About the time I started to get loose, I got too tired to pitch anymore. But there was no trouble with my arm. Everything is fine."

And while Koufax' first workout was brightening the Dodger camp, the San Francisco Giants weren't making much progress with two other pitchers, veteran Bob Shaw, and Japanese left-hander Masanori Murakami.

Shaw, 7-6 last year, is resisting an $8,000 slash to $30,000 and is busy tending his orange orchards in Jupiter, Fla., while the Giants go through their first week of training in Casa Grande, Ariz.

Shaw won five games in relief early last season before slumping badly and remarked, "If I started poorly last season and finished strong, and wound up with the same won-lost record, they probably would have offered me a raise."

To which Giant Vice President Chub Feeney replied, "If he pitched in the first half the way he did in the second half, he wouldn't have been on the team—he would have been in Tacoma"—a farm team.

The Giants got some moral support from Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick in the Murakami case. The commissioner said "the Giants have proof they legally purchased Murakami's contract. If he fails to report and is suspended, we expect the suspension to be recognized in Japan the same as it is in the United States."

Frick said if the Japanese Baseball Federation does not recognize the Giants' rights to Murakami, "the proposed trip of the Pittsburgh Pirates to Japan next fall will be canceled."

Junior Editors Quiz on KILTS

QUESTION: How did Scotchmen come to wear kilts?

ANSWER: The short knee-length skirt called a kilt developed from another item of the traditional Scotchman's garb, the plaidie. Our pictures show the main stages in the kilt's development. (1) shows the Highland garb about 1500. A very long piece of cloth, dyed a bright yellow, was belted around the waist with part of it hanging down to the knee, forming a kind of skirt and leaving the legs bare. The reason for this was that the Highlands of Scotland were covered with heather which would get very wet in the rain and mist of that mountainous country. The Highlanders spend much time outdoors tending their animals. Trousers are heavy and uncomfortable when wet. Tucked up during the day, the long cloth, later called a plaidie, could be wrapped around the wearer if he had to sleep outdoors at night. In (2) the Highlander still wears a belted plaidie, but the bottom is carefully arranged to hang neatly. It was only a step from this to the kilt (3), in which the skirt is separate. A bit of the plaidie still is draped over the left shoulder. Notice the tartan design. This shows the special clan to which the wearer belongs.

FOR YOU TO DO: The last Scotchman is dancing the Highland Fling. See if you can get the spirit of it doing it yourself. Hold up your left arm and hop on your left leg, then change around to right arm and right leg.

Diana Duncan of Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, wins today's combined prize of Compton's Illustrated Science Dictionary plus $10 cash for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review.

1 Killed, 2 Hurt In Plane Crash

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — One Air Force man, believed to be a colonel, was killed and two other airmen were injured today in the crash of their private plane just south of Clear Fork Reservoir in Morrow County.

An ambulance driver at the scene said he did not know the identities of the man or origin of the single engine private plane. Uniform of the dead man, he said, indicated he was a colonel.

The ambulance driver said he was taking the injured to the Mansfield General Hospital.

The crashed plane was discovered by a state highway patrolman about 7:30 a.m., after an all-night search. A motorist had told the patrol just after midnight about seeing a plane go down, and a search was started at once. Because of heavy fog in the area a patrolman did not spot the plane until daylight.

The crash happened near Lexington and near Ohio 314 and at 12 midnight Wednesday to protest U.S. policy in Viet Nam. Brian Scanlan, a freshman from Tenafly, N. J., said the fast was over the escalation of the war and also an appeal for peaceful negotiation of the dispute.
